THE VOTES IN CHICAGO.

The Republicans Scored a Large Victory.

The New Election Law Worked Like a Charm and Everybody is Now Praising It.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—The News, independent, says: In the local election yesterday the republicans gained a distinct victory at several points, notably in electing a complete board of county commissioners.

In the matter of the sanitary trustees Mr. Eckhart, republican, leads all the candidates; Mr. Cooley, democrat, coming next. The good fortune of Mr. Boldenweck, republican, in being yoked with a number of exceptionally strong candidates, is apparent in the returns. He has beaten Mr. Bomle by a small majority. Mr. Babcock, democrat, for county superintendent of schools, has been elected over his republican opponent, Mr. Bright.

Victors and vanquished in yesterday's political conflict are agreed on one thing and that is that the new election law worked charmingly. Now that the law has been tried and found satisfactory both republicans and democrats are wondering how an election was ever conducted without it. The only citizens who spoke disparingly of it were the professional ticket peddlers.

NO CHANCE FOR DISPUTE.

Brown Elected in Maryland and the Legislature Democratic.

Baltimore, Nov. 4.—The Sun says the Maryland legislature will be democratic by from 30 to 40 on joint ballot.

Brown (dem.) for governor is elected by a large majority.

CHEERING NEWS.

Wapakoneta, O., Nov. 4.—The election yesterday passed off very quietly. A very large vote was polled. The Australian system was well received here. Five precincts in this county gave Campbell 710, McKinley 549, Ashenhurst 10, Seitz 40. It will take some time before the official vote will be counted. Shaw and Geyer, state senators from this district, are elected by a large majority. Campbell's majority in the county will be about 1,800. The whole county democratic ticket is elected.

MISSISSIPPI.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 4.—The election in this state was held for three railroad commissioners, the entire legislature and district attorneys. W. S. Lauria, J. B. Askew and J. F. Sessions were the democratic nominees for commissioners and had no opposition. The general legislature will be overwhelmingly democratic, with most of the members pledged for the return of Messrs. George and Walthall to the United States senate.

Claimed by Republicans.

Denver, Col., Nov. 4.—Chairman Coe, of the republican county central committee, claims the election of the entire ticket by 2,500. No complete returns from outside towns have been received, but Helm's election as chief justice of the supreme court is claimed by the state republican committee by over 5,000. At democratic headquarters no estimates have been made. Returns come in slowly.

KNOCKED OFF A TRAIN.

Wapakoneta, O., Nov. 4.—(Special)—A very peculiar case happened here a few nights ago. The passenger train going south, was nearing Main street when the conductor saw a man fall off the platform. He stopped the train and went to see his man, who was cut on the head and unconscious. He remained in that condition until to-day, when he gained consciousness. He says he was struck by some one and robbed.

WEATHER.

Mr. George H. Hagen, the weather observer at the Toledo station promises continued fair weather, and says:

A low area prevails over Lake Superior and is extending eastward and upward over the upper lakes. It will disappear too rapidly to create much rain in that section.

The lowest temperature on the government weather map is just north of Alpena in the Canadian province of Ontario, where it is 20 degrees. Snow fall is reported at "The Soo."

The highest temperature at Toledo yesterday was 41 degrees. The lowest this morning was 27 degrees.

Local forecast for this vicinity is clear and slightly warmer, west to northwesterly winds for to-day and Thursday.

Forecast for western New York and Ohio—Winds shifting to warmer southerly, with cloudy weather, but without rain; local rains are probably Thursday along the lakes with higher temperature.

For Michigan—Winds generally warmer, southerly; light local rains or flurries of snow; generally fair Thursday and stationary temperature.

For Indiana and Illinois—Southerly winds and slightly warmer; fair weather; fair Thursday.

For Wisconsin—Winds shifting to slightly cooler westerly; fair weather, except light flurries of snow along the lake shore; fair Thursday.

NEBRASKA.

A Cumbersome Ballot Kept Many People Away from the Polls.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 4.—In spite of the fact that a very light vote has been polled the election was the most hotly contested of any struggle ever witnessed in Nebraska. The light vote is due partly to the weather and partly to the Australian ballot system of voting, which has proved cumbersome, especially in Omaha, where there are 119 candidates to be voted for on the state, county and city tickets. It required from 10 to 25 minutes for voters to properly mark the ballots, and as a consequence of the delay many men deserted the polling places after remaining in line an hour without being able to reach the election booth.

Chairman Mercer, of the state central committee, in an estimate made at 1 o'clock this morning, says that if the present gain for the republican ticket is kept up Post's majority in the state will be between 20,000 and 25,000. This is estimating Douglass county at but 5,000, which is undoubtedly very low.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Scattering Returns Show a Republican Victory.

St. Paul, Nov. 4.—Scattering returns from South Dakota show that republican congressmen are getting two votes to democrats one.

The election of Jolley, rep., to congress in South Dakota is conceded, and it becomes simply a question of plurality. Scattering returns have been received, but all reports point to Jolley's election by a good plurality. A very light vote was cast, threshing being of greater interest. One hundred and fifty precincts give Jolley 3,892; Wood, dem., 1,733, and Smith, ind., 1,711. This includes 50 towns. There have been republican gains reported in many quarters.

School Board Fight.

St. Louis, Nov. 4.—The only feature of general interest in the election here today for a school board is the charges of gross corruption, and the hot campaign which has been made against the old board elected last fall. The board was charged with misusing the school funds, and in some instances spending the money to pay off private debts. Six members at large and one each for seven school districts were on the republican and democratic tickets in opposition to the old board, making three tickets in the field. No state officers were elected.

Of the new board eight republicans, two members of the old board and four independent democrats were elected.

Full Reports from All Over the State Showing How the Ballots Came In—McKinley Addresses the Crowds at Canton.

Columbus, O., Nov. 4.—(Special)—At midnight, with returns from only one-tenth of the state, the largest part of which is from Cincinnati, Chairman Hahn and his statistical experts claim the state by 18,000, with both branches of the legislature.

Chairman Neal says that if ratio is same on further returns during night republicans will carry state by 15,000, with great possibility of rural districts reducing this to the majority received by Ryan, if not less.

He does not give up the state as democratic portions have not yet been heard from.

It is remarkable how Gov. Campbell

Gov. McKinley.

ran ahead of his ticket in Hamilton county.

Gov. Campbell left his office at midnight with his daughter, and before leaving said that from indications McKinley would have nearly 15,000 plurality with chances of it being less.

THE VOTE IN OHIO.

The returns from Ohio are compared with the vote on secretary of state in 1890, when Ryan had a plurality of 10,969.

Democratic state committee concede McKinley's election and also the legislature.

Fayette, O.

Fayette, O., Nov. 3.—Gorham township gives McKinley 261, Campbell 250, Rorick 264, Ryan 230, McConica 244, Canary 233, Allen, representative, 261; Ely, representative, 226.

Oak Harbor.

Oak Harbor, Nov. 4.—(Special)—Oak Harbor precinct complete gives Campbell 594, McKinley 92, Seitz 36, Senators Stewart 330, Van Horn 354, Judges Mills 567, Kelley 104, Representatives Baker 647, Kelley 28.

Elmore.

Elmore, O., Nov. 4.—(Special)—Harris township gives the democratic state ticket 53 majority; Kelley, rep. representative, has 153 majority; Smith, commissioner, rep., 144 majority.

Wauseon.

Wauseon, Nov. 4.—(Special)—Clinton township vote was 831, a republican gain over last year of 11. Ryan has 240, Canary 239, Rorick 542, McConica 533. Prohibition 26, people's 39.

Allen, representative, has 250; Ely 525. Ely and whole republican ticket elected.

True to Democracy.

Fremont, O., Nov. 4.—(Special)—Sandusky county will give Campbell 800 plurality. The entire democratic county ticket will be elected.

Defiance County.

Defiance, Nov. 4.—(Special)—Returns were slow in coming in and six wards show slight democratic gains, and Campbell will have over 300 majority in the city. Winn, dem., for the legislature, is elected, with Snyder, for judge, in doubt.

Mills and Stewart.

Norwalk, O., Nov. 4.—(Special)—Incomplete returns show republican gains in this county. Many democrats made the mistake of marking their ballots for Campbell only. The republican majority will be about 900. Mills and Stewart both run ahead in this city.

In Campbell's County.

Hamilton, O., Nov. 4.—The vote for Campbell in this (his own county) shows gains over his majority two years ago.

Henry County.

Napoleon, O., Nov. 4.—Democratic majority will not exceed 1,150 in Henry county.

Erie County.

Sandusky, O., Nov. 4.—All precincts in this county except four have been heard from. Campbell will have a majority in the county. Mills, dem., will have a majority of 300 in the county for common pleas judge. John J. Moltee, dem., will be elected representative. On county ticket republicans will probably elect three out of seven.

Perrysburg.

Perrysburg, O., Nov. 4.—North precinct, 377 votes; McKinley, 164; Campbell, 203; representative—James, 155; Diver, 191; senators—McConica, 155; Rorick, 156; Ryan, 191; Canary, 192; four people's and three prohibition votes. Thirty-nine mistakes were made in voting. South precinct, 502 votes; McKinley, 202; Campbell, 200; representative—James, 200; Diver, 276; senators—McConica, 199; Rorick, 199; Ryan, 273; Canary, 275.

Republicans in Wood County.

Bowling Green O., Nov. 4.—(Special)—A slight republican gain is all that can be reported from this county. James, the republican candidate for representative, is elected by 500. Diver, the democratic candidate for representative, made a very hard fight but failed in holding his own. The prohibitionists will poll about 100 votes in the county, and the people's party about 250.

Everything, in fact, is republican.

The democrats were very poor and even unable to pay for election returns.

Everything is republican in Wood county by the usual republican majority.

Wauseon.

Wauseon, Nov. 4.—Eight of 16 precincts in the county show small republican gains in all. Rorick will have 850, McConica 825. Ely, republican representative is surely elected by 600.

Bryan.

Bryan, Nov. 4.—(Special)—Williams county has elected every republican candidate by pluralities ranging from 100 to 450. McKinley carried the county. His plurality will be at least 100.

Fostoria.

Fostoria, Nov. 4.—(Special)—Full returns from the five wards of Fostoria give McKinley 1,000, Campbell 686, Ashenhurst 114, Seitz 54.

For state senator, less the Second ward, which is out of district, Baker, republican, gets 811, Gear, democrat rep., gets 811; Gear, dem., 548; Lyon, pro., 9; McCammon, people's, 40.

Representative—Flummerfelt, dem., 546; Harmon, rep., 814; Neikirk, pro., 90; Fry, people's, 41.

Auditor—Ehrenfried, dem., 545; Schlosser 820.

Commissioner—Burtcher, dem., 570; Peters, rep., 799.

The vote was large and but little scratching done.

Seneca County.

Tiffin, Nov. 4.—(Special)—Campbell will carry Seneca county by probably 800. All of the democratic county ticket undoubtedly elected except auditor, which is close.

Whitehouse.

Whitehouse, O., Nov. 4.—(Special)—The most orderly and decent election ever observed here. The new ballot gives good general satisfaction and only three or four mistakes were made. A circular appeared in the morning printed by "railroad committee" asking railroad employes to vote against Ryan for re-election to the senate because he voted for 2c a mile fare and then moved to reconsider.

M'KINLEY AT CANTON.

An Enthusiastic Crowd Takes the Major Out of Bed to Make a Speech.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 4.—An enthusiastic crowd of 3,000 citizens literally carried Gov.-elect McKinley from his hotel to a public hall in Canton at 2 o'clock this morning.

He was lifted to the stage and said:

"If the later returns confirm the news we now receive we will have a right to meet and rejoice over the glorious victory now being recorded, but we must remember that as yet we have heard from about one-half of the state.

"It is more important that the principles of the republican party should triumph than any man should be elected governor.

"By morning we should know for sure that protection and sound currency are victorious. I thank you all for your many manifestations of good will, hearty support and constant effort in my behalf."

HANCOCK COUNTY.

A Close Vote Which May Take the Official Court to Settle.

Findlay, O., Nov. 4.—(Special)—The result of the election in this county is still very uncertain, and it will take the complete returns to make up a final verdict. Calvin Brooks, the republican candidate for the re-election for commissioner, is defeated by C. Garber, democrat, by about 150 majority. This gives the democrats a majority on the board.

George Carney, republican candidate for representative, is probably elected over

The Good People of the Empire State

Return a Verdict Against Bossism and Plattism.

Roswell P. Flower Elected Governor with a Whirl.

He Will Have Nearly Forty Thousand Votes to Spare.

The Great State of New York Places Itself in Line to do Battle for the National Ticket in the Next Campaign.

New York, Nov. 4.—Roswell P. Flower was elected governor of New York to succeed David B. Hill. His plurality is estimated at between 18,000 and 24,000. Fassett did not carry Elmira, his own city. Flower beating him by 504 votes. This city gave Flower 50,000 plurality and Brooklyn gave him 14,000.

Returns from districts outside New York and Kings counties indicate that Fassett has been meeting Folger's fate. In Jefferson, Clinton, Essex, Montgomery and Wyoming counties he was far behind the vote for Miller. Flower's gains on a decreased vote were ahead of Hill's. Watertown's four wards show a gain of 500 for Flower.

The vote in this city was very light. It had been expected that out of the registration of 261,532 at least 240,000 ballots would be polled, but only about 220,000 persons voted. In the Hill-

Gov. Flower.

Miller campaign more than 271,000 votes were cast. Comparatively, Flower ran as well as Gov. Hill, whose plurality was 69,000, and who was elected by 19,000.

Flower will take to the Harlem river 75,000 plurality. It is doubtful if Fassett will bring down 50,000 to meet it. The democrats are gaining assemblymen in the state. Sheehan is not doing as well as Flower, but his election is assured. At 10 o'clock Gov. Hill sent a telegram to Police Commissioner Martin claiming the state for Flower by 40,000 plurality.

Mr. Flower's own estimate of his majority in the state is 55,000.

NEW YORK.

Flower Elected Governor of the Empire State.

New York, Nov. 4.—The New York Press bulletin says the republican state committee concede Flower's election.

Brooklyn—460 districts give Flower 55,875, Fassett 45,111.

Eight hundred out of 887 districts in New York City give Flower 129,834, Fassett 77,705.

One hundred and fifty-five districts in New York state outside of New York city and Kings county give Flower 15,945, Fassett 17,624.

Same districts in 1888—Hill 17,597, Miller 22,338.

New York Sun bulletin says returns from state show great gains for Flower, and says Flower's majority in Kings county will be 15,000.

Albany, N. Y.—Gov. Hill's consolation of 62 districts in the state outside New York city and King's county shows a loss from the Hill vote of 1888 of 304 for Flower, and 1,280 for Fassett, as compared with the vote for Miller.

Brooklyn.—Sixty districts out of a total of 647 give Flower 6,261, Fassett 4,538.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

Both Branches Are Democratic to Add to the Glory.

New York, Nov. 4.—The World says in an extra issued at 9:30 this morning: Both branches of the legislature have gone democratic. The senate will be a tie, 16 democrats and 16 republicans, but the casting vote of the lieutenant governor will give the former advantage on all party questions.

The democrats have gained in the Eighth, where Lispenard Stewart was defeated by Gen. Martin T. McMahon, the Twelfth, the Westchester Rockland district, where Charles P. McClelland defeats Bradford Rhodes by over 2,000, the Twenty-fifth, where James J. Belden beat Rufus T. Peck in a district which is usually safe for 6,500 republican majority; the Twenty-first, where John Laughlin, the present senator, succumbs to Mathias Endres, and the Thirty-seventh, where P. Vedder is defeated.

The assembly will remain numerically the same as last year—68 democrats and 60 republicans. Returns show that Gibbs has been defeated by 13 votes, but he claims the election by 21, and Hamilton Fish, jr., is beaten in Putnam.

The New York delegation will consist of 20 Tammany men, one county democrat and three republicans. The Kings county delegation will be composed of nine democrats and three republicans.

New York Legislature.

New York, Nov. 4.—Returns received by the Herald indicate that the republicans have carried both branches of the legislature. In the assembly it credits the republicans with having returned 69 members to 59 for the democrats, and in the senate 18 republicans to 14 democrats.

He May Pull Through.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 4.—The Times says that the latest returns from the Second congressional district indicate that Chapin, dem., is defeated by Bristow, rep. The vote is very close.

BUFFALO'S DEMOCRACY.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Erie county, with one ward in Buffalo missing, gives Flower a plurality of 1,306. The missing ward gives a democratic majority of about 400 on other offices.

For state senator, Endres, dem., has an apparent majority of 845.

The democrats elect the sheriff, county clerk, keeper of poor house and coroner on the county ticket. The republicans elect the superintendent of the poor.

On the city ticket the democrats elect the mayor, Charles F. Bishop (re-elected); comptroller, commissioner of public works, assessor, judge of municipal court and justice of the peace. The republicans elected the judge of the superior court and the overseer of the poor. The select council, a new body under the new charter, will stand eight democrats and one republican.

The board of aldermen will stand 13 democrats and 12 republicans.

IN OLD "VIRGINNY" STATE

The Democrats Polled Up an Awful Vote.

Republicans Don't Seem to Thrive in That Part of the Country as Well as in Ohio.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 4.—Prince Edward county votes solid for democratic senator and elects members of lower house by majorities of about 250; a gain of over 200. Edwards, alliance-democrat, elected without opposition from Smyth and Bland counties.

Returns indicate a gain of three members in lower house for democrats. Democrats elected 16 members without opposition.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 4.—No county in the state, as far as heard from, shows the election of a republican or an independent.

Further returns indicate the election of democrats from Brunswick, Dinwiddie, Prince George and Surrey counties, a democratic gain of three members of the lower house. The democrats elect 16 members without opposition and nine members from counties represented by democrats in the last legislature. For the senate the democrats elect without opposition members from the Fourteenth and Twenty-fourth districts.

About three-quarters of the state has been heard from, which shows that 16 senatorial districts have elected democrats, with four districts to hear from. This, with the 19 democrats who hold over, makes the senate stand 35 democrats to one republican, who holds over.

SWEPT IT CLEAN.

Democrats Victorious in New Jersey Yesterday.

The Republicans Not Given Enough to Let Them Know They Were in the Race at All.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 4.—The democrats will have a majority in both branches of the legislature.

At political headquarters of the democrats in this city the claim is made that democratic senators have been elected in Hudson, Hunterdon, Middlesex and Sussex counties. The democrats also claim to have elected 40 assemblymen in the state.

Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 4.—Hudson county returns are incomplete but indicate a sweeping democratic victory. The democrats elect R. S. Hudspeth state senator by about 8,000 over Carn, rep., nine and possibly 10 of the 11 assembly districts have been carried by the democrats, together with all the county offices.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 4.—The returns up to 1 o'clock this morning indicate the election of the entire democratic senatorial ticket in New Jersey and 41 out of 60 assemblymen.

THEY VOTE IT STRAIGHT.

Denver, Col., Nov. 4.—Partial returns from 15 precincts in the counties out of 153 give the straight republican ticket a majority of 300.

Chairman Coe of the county central committee claims the election of the entire ticket by 2,500. No complete returns from the outside towns have been received, but Helm's election to be chief justice of the supreme court is claimed by the chairman of the state republican committee by over 5,000.

At democratic headquarters no estimates have been made.

WILL PAY NO MORE FREIGHT.

Jones, With the Whiskers, Voted for Fassett

Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Lieut.-Gov. Jones voted about 10 o'clock. He voted for Fassett, and it is believed that he also voted the complete republican ticket. A large vote polled here.

James Husted, democrat, by the aid of the trades unions.

In this city W. J. Cusac, republican candidate for infirmary director, is re-elected.

The Republican claims the republican plurality on the state ticket in this county as about 200 and in the city about 600.

Organized labor in this city asserted its power in the result in this county. Nearly 5,000 votes were cast, and everybody was pleased with the new system of voting.

UPPER SANDUSKY.

Upper Sandusky, Nov. 4.—Election here passed off quietly and very little trouble with the new method of voting was experienced.

Returns came in very slow, but those already in indicate that Campbell's majority in the county will be about 800.

Six precincts give Campbell 897, McKinley 462, Ashenhurst 16 and Seitz 7. This shows a net republican gain of eight for McKinley over the vote of Ryan last year when Cromley received a majority of 807.

On the taxation amendment and constitutional convention as far as received the vote is as follows: Taxation, yes, 464; no, 143; constitutional, yes, 107; no, 404.

W. C. Gear, democratic candidate for senator Thirty-first district, claims his election by about 4,000.

J. J. Smith, democrat, is elected representative.

The vote of Crane township and Kirley precinct give Campbell 895 and McKinley 462. Same precincts gave Cromley 905 and Ryan 462. Sixteen votes cast for Ashenhurst and seven for Seitz.

Vote on taxation: 464 yes, 143 no; constitution, 107 yes 404 no.

Campbell Carried McKinley's Home.

Canton, Nov. 4.—The returns are incomplete, and will be so until to-morrow, but enough is known to say that Campbell has carried Stark county by at least 400. The county ticket is close. Every ward and precinct in the city so far heard from shows gains for Campbell, he running from 10 to 15 ahead of his ticket, and if the rate keeps up Campbell will carry the county by 700.

Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—The republicans carried the state by a handsome vote.

At 2 o'clock a. m. the whole state has been heard from, not a county missing. Gregg, rep., for auditor-general, has 50,833 plurality over Wright, dem. Morrison, rep., for state treasurer, has 47,467 plurality over Tilden, dem.

Woodville's Vote.

Woodville, O., Nov. 4.—This township gave McKinley 74, Campbell 280, and the balance of the ticket kept up with the leaders.

Vote Coming In Slowly.

Fremont, O., Nov. 4.—(Special)—Not half of the 23 precincts in Sandusky county have reported. Campbell's majority in the county will be about 600, a falling off of about 150 votes. The entire democratic county ticket is elected by large majorities.

The election passed off quietly and without excitement. The new voting system gives excellent satisfaction, and but few mistakes were made.

The democrats claim Knox, Muskingum, Noble, Perry Washington, two in Stark, and the doubtful in Franklin and Montgomery, giving them 43.

CAMPBELL AT HIS DESK.

The Republicans Have Not Won a Tariff Victory.

Columbus, O., Nov. 4.—Gov. Campbell was at his desk in the executive office at the usual hour this morning unruffled by his defeat. To a United Press reporter he said: "I do not accept this as a triumph of the tariff position of the republicans. Far from it."

When asked what he attributed his defeat to, the governor said that among the principal causes was the lack of funds in the hands of the state committee to cary on the legitimate work of the campaign.

RUSSELL'S RACE.

He Distanced His Competitor Yesterday

And Made Massachusetts a Democratic State.

This Alone is Victory Enough for One Election.

A Remarkable Campaign in the Bay State.

Boston Did Nobly and the Popular Young Chief Executive Will Continue to Administer the Affairs of State for Another Term.

Boston, Nov. 4.—Russell, it is estimated, has received 156,000 and Allen 151,000 votes, leaving the governor a plurality of about 5,000.

The vote of Boston is 36,512 for Russell and 22,987 for Allen, which gives the democrats a plurality in the city of 13,525.

The towns outside of the cities last year gave Brackett 59,313 and Russell 52,889.

Returns from 282 towns this year give Russell 49,871 and Allen 59,384. Gov. Russell gained 13 per cent. in these towns which, applied to the rest of the towns, would make his total in all towns 59,199.

Gov. Russell.

The same towns showed a gain for Allen of 16 per cent. over Brackett's vote of last year. This percentage applied to the rest of the towns will give him 68,803 in all the towns.

Add to these figures the vote of Boston and it swells the vote to 95,771, and Allen's to 91,790. The cities outside of Boston gave Russell a year ago 55,144 and Brackett 52,515. Russell carried them then by about 2,500 plurality.

The increased vote this year in these same cities indicates that Russell will have over 60,000 votes and Allen 58,000, thus making the total vote in the state about 156,000 for Russell and 151,000 for Allen.

An analysis of the returns from these cities shows that Allen gained over Brackett in Chelsea and Somerville, and relatively in Holyoke. On the other hand Russel has made net gains in Lawrence, New Bedford, Fall River, Salem, Chicopee and elsewhere.

The entire republican state ticket, with the exception of governor, is elected by ample pluralities. Returns for members of the legislature are incomplete. The returns thus far indicate that 17 republican senators are elected.

Among the senatorial candidates defeated is Robert Howard, of Fall River. His defeat is something of a surprise. Complete returns for 137 members of the house of representatives, a little more than one-half, show that 82 republicans have been elected and 45 democrats. The plurality for Speaker Barrett is twice that of last year. The executive council will probably stand seven republicans to one democrat.

MASSACHUSETTS.

How the Ballots Rolled In in the Old Bay State.

Boston, Nov. 4.—Russell, democrat, is certainly elected governor in Massachusetts by from 5,000 to 10,000. Sixty towns outside of Boston—Allen, republican, 9,292; Russell, democrat, 6,640, net republican gain, 564.

Boston, Nov. 4.—Last winter's legislation, providing for an additional and independent count of all ballots and the proving by comparison of the correctness of the count before the result is announced, will tend to delay the returns.

Fifty towns in Massachusetts outside Boston—Allen, rep., 7,841, Russell, dem., 5,665. Net republican gain 424.

One hundred and thirty-three precincts in Boston out of 207, give Allen, rep., 14,405, Russell, dem., 23,637.

One hundred and nine precincts in Boston out of 205 give Russell, dem., 18,932; Allen, rep., 11,729.

One hundred towns outside of Boston give Allen 15,829, Russell 11,783. Net republican gain 1,128.

Twenty Massachusetts towns so far heard from give Allen, rep., 1,752, Russell, dem., 1,135. A net republican gain of 189.

Half the towns of the state outside of Boston give Allen 27,540, Russell 21,033. Same last year gave Brackett 23,216, Russell 18,367. Net gain of 1,658.

Latest Advices from the Chilian Shores.

No Diminution in the Hostility Shown by People of Valparaiso Toward Americans.

London, Nov. 4.—The latest advices from Valparaiso state that there is no diminution of the popular animosity against Americans and that no real effort is being made to bring any Chilians to justice for the killing of the American sailors.

While the American negotiations are pending, the junta has ordered the Chilian war vessels to be ready for service, and the forts defending Valparaiso harbor are being strengthened.

These steps are taken very quietly, as if with a view to avoid attracting attention.

The Baltimore maintains great vigilance, and Capt. Schley is evidently on the lookout for a treacherous attack. The opinion is expressed that, should the occasion not culminate before the 18th inst., the new president, probably George Montt, may bring matters to a settlement. Montt is believed to be the best disposed to Americans of any of the revolutionary leaders.

The correspondent of the London Times at Valparaiso is said to be a writer who has been noted in the past for his hostility to the United States. The Times articles continue to be the subject of unfavorable comment in London, as calculated to stir up trouble between the United States and England.

RALLYING TO PARNELL.

London, Nov. 4.—In letters to United Ireland, Mrs. Parnell, mother of the greater leader, says: "We, of this country, trusted to the sad cry of the Irish. My son was a great victim. Those who think they can undo his work should pluck the hideous beam of prejudice, the growth of diseased character. Every vote should be cast for the candidate commended by the Parnellites." The letter closed with an expression, to be used as a rallying cry: "Remember Parnell. Remember his murderers."

THE PILGRIMS.

Paris, Nov. 4.—Monsignor Gothe-Soulard, archbishop of Aix has received assurrences of active support from 32 Catholic bishops of France in the matter at issue between him and the government, growing out of the recent visit of the French pilgrims to Rome.

BELGIAN SUBSIDIES.

Brussels, Nov. 4.—The Belgian government has promised to the town of Ostend the ground for a new dock, gratis, together with three millions of francs, as a subsidy for building a quay.

IN RAILROAD CIRCLES.

Passenger Agent Charlton, of the Alton, Talks.

Lake Shore Agents After the C., B. & Q.—Were the Officials Indicted? Other News.

James Charlton, general passenger agent of the Chicago & Alton, was in this morning.

In speaking of the boycott he stated that the management of that road was perfectly satisfied with the present condition of affairs, and that they have good reason for this disposition, as their earnings have been constantly increasing every day since the boycott was ordered, and that the earnings sometimes increased as high as $5,000 a day.

In accounting for this gratifying result, he said that the boycott served to spur the management into activity.

"We are independent now," said he, "and ask no odds and give none. Instead of waiting for some line to send us business, at a rate fixed by some association, we hustle out and get it ourselves, at whatever rate we feel disposed to make. People going west don't buy any farther than Chicago, and when they arrive there they take advantage of the best rate offered. We don't want anything to do with any association. There is no reason for this disposition on the part of other roads, and we don't care whether we ever get another dollar's worth of business from these lines or not."

Agents After the C., B. & Q.

The C., B. & Q. is in an unpleasant position in regard to the existing difficulties between the Lake Shore and agents who have been discharged for receiving commissions.

Officials of the C., B. & Q. stoutly deny imparting any information in the matter. The agents are as firm to the contrary, and are preparing to retaliate in a most vigorous manner. They are dangerous foes, as their positions give them power to cut and slash in the dark. One of the discharged agents, speaking on the subject, said:

"The agents propose to protect themselves. I have taken commissions—not from the Burlington, however—and there are mighty few agents in the country but what are in the same boat, and how do we know but we will be tipped off and lose our heads?"

"Then you intend a boycott of your own?"

"Not exactly a boycott. It can be done without rustling a hair. Suppose you want to go to some point west of Chicago or St. Louis. I would not say, 'Do not take the Burlington,' but I would arrange a route for you in which the Burlington was not mentioned, and in eight cases out of ten where men are going on long journeys the ticket and station agents make up the route for them. Of course if a ticket over the Burlington was asked for we would not refuse to sell it. But, you see, the ticket and station agents combined could do more damage to a road than a strike of trainmen. Besides, when it is once proven that the Burlington did cause the discharge of the Lake Shore ticket agents, other elements will join in the fight against that system."

Were They Indicted?

A special agent of the interstate commerce commission made St. Louis a week's visit recently, endeavoring to secure indictments against shippers for receiving rebates and railroad officials for paying rebates. It is reported that the grand jury indicted the following railroad officials:

M. Knight, general freight traffic manager of the Wabash Railroad company.

S. B. Knight, general freight agent of the Wabash Railroad company.

A. Fell, western freight manager of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, Buffalo, N. Y.

A. S. Crane, general freight agent of the Fitchburg railroad, Boston, Mass.

G. R. Spriggs, general freight agent of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis railroad.

P. H. Wyckoff, general freight agent of the Central railroad of New Jersey, New York City.

Eugene Field and F. W. Fowkes, of the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City road.

Cinders.

Local roads are preparing winter time tables.

L. M. Martin has been appointed general manager of the Des Moines & Northwestern, with headquarters at Des Moines.

E. W. Cartwright, formerly ticket agent of the Pan Handle at Indianapolis, now in the Richmond ticket office, recently came into a fortune by the death of an aunt.

Walter Finfrock, formerly chief clerk under Superintendent Zook of the Monon, has removed to a similar position under Superintendent Husted of the C., H. & D. at Lima.

The eastern division of the "Nypano," from Salamanca, N. Y., to Kent, O., has been divided into two sections. J. S. Matson is superintendent of the division from Salamanca to Meadville, Pa., while Ira Belknap, now trainmaster of the Susquehana division, is made superintendent from Meadville to Kent.

The discharge of clerks in the local offices of the freight department of the Pennsylvania Railroad company continues. Four of the oldest men, R. F. Thomas, Frank White, John Connor and George Pulfert, are among the latest to be let out. Their places, it is said, are being filled by personal friends of W. H. Read and other heads of departments. There is said to quite a number of others on the list.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles.

London wheat market quiet and steady; corn slow. Liverpool wheat firm, 1d lower.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points for two days are 1,792,399 bu, compared with 867,336 bu on the same day last year.

Shipments of wheat from India last week equaled 1,118,000 bu. Previous week 920,000 bu. From April 1, the commencement of the crop year, to October 31, 38,338,000 bu, compared with 20,920,000 bu in the corresponding period in 1890.

The imports into the United Kingdom for the week were 2,528,000 bu of wheat and 170,000 bbls of flour, equal to 3,293,000 bu of wheat, and 512,000 bu of corn.

The quantity of flour and wheat on ocean passage decreased last week 680,000 bu, being a decrease to the continent of 1,592,000 bu, and an increase to the United Kingdom of 512,000 bu. Corn decreased 72,000 bu.

Our table herein of available wheat and corn shows an increase of 207,507 bu wheat, and a decrease of 148,510 bu corn.

Wheat in Private Elevators and the Northwest.—Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 2.—Figures compiled by the Northwestern Miller show the stock of wheat in private elevators of Minneapolis to be 1,506,000 bus., or 265,000 bus. more than last Monday. This makes the total stock at Minneapolis and Duluth, 9,360,825 bus., 1,456,573 bus. more than a week ago. The Market Record reports the stock of wheat in country elevators of Minnesota and the Dakotas at 5,241,500 bus., an increase for the week of 1,290,300 bus. The aggregate northwestern stock is thus swelled to 14,602,325 bus., or 2,746,876 bus. more than last Monday. A year ago the total northwestern stock was 14,507,000 bus.

The telegraph instruments at Chicago have been restored on 'Change, and the telegraph companies have reduced rates between Exchanges to the same figures as in force prior to April 1, 1890.

The United Kingdom supply of Breadstuffs—According to the New York Produce Exchange Weekly, the supply of breadstuffs in the United Kingdom for the week ending October 24 was 502,240 bushels in excess of estimated consumption.

The receipts of wheat to-day at seven principal western points for two days are 925,063 bu in excess of two days in 1890.

The export clearances Monday from four Atlantic ports were 454,785 bu of wheat and flour to an aggregate of 600,000 bu. Exports of corn were 57,522 bu.

English markets as reported herein opened steady for wheat and lower for corn, but the Mark Lane Express gives an encouraging report of the market.

As will be seen by our tables herein, the ocean stock of wheat destined to the United Kingdom increased last week 912,000 bu. To the continent the decrease was 1,592,000 bu. Net decrease 680,000 bu. The aggregate to the United Kingdom and continent is now 17,552,000 bu, compared with 14,336,000 at corresponding date in 1890.

With exception of one or two local light showers there has been no rain over the winter wheat belt, and it is not too much to say that the prospects for the next crop is decidedly unfavorable. Rain, and a good deal of it, with subsequent growing weather, is needed to give the crop growth and strength to withstand cold weather.

HE EATS STANDING UP.

Timothy Healy is in a Bad Condition.

McDermott Gave Him a Terrible Beating and the Barrister Refuses to Prosecute Him.

Dublin, Nov. 4.—Tim Healy is greatly disturbed by the publicity which the story of his horsewhipping has received. He now declares that he throttled McDermott and prevented him from striking. There are plenty of witnesses to the contrary.

These witnesses heard at least 50 strokes of the horsewhip as McDermott rained the blows on Healy, while Healy danced and jumped about, yelling with pain and calling for some one to help him. Healy must be black and blue all over from McDermott's blows, and it is believed that the real reason he refused to complain against McDermott for the assault was his fear that the whole story would come out in the courts.

After the horsewhipping Healy wept with vexation and pain, and has since been unable to sit down, at least in public.

CUT OFF THE GAS

From the Toledo Electric Light Company and Other Works.

Yesterday the city gas was cut off from the Toledo Electric Light works, the Robison street car power house and several other smaller institutions. All have returned to the use of coal and will continue to use it until the result of the injunction is known.

Orders for cutting off other factories have gone forth to-day, and by to-morrow quite a number will have returned to the use of coal. It is believed that with the large consumers thus cut off there will be an abundance of gas for the 4,000 private consumers.

THE BATTLE HAS OPENED.

Fire Alarm Foraker for U. S. Senator.

The Cincinnati Mud Machine Trots Him Out and Warns Sherman to Get Off the Track.

Cincinnati, Nov. 4.—The Commercial-Gazette this morning says editorially: "Returns on the legislature show that it is reliably republican, and a careful canvass of the senatorial preferences of the members elected indicates that if Gov. Foraker really has senatorial aspirations his election is assured beyond the shadow of doubt.

"A number of the legislators are already outspoken in their choice, notably the three representatives from Lucas county, who state positively that they are Foraker first, last and all the time.

"It goes without the saying that the Hamilton county delegation ought to be for the governor from motives of local pride, to say nothing of individual preference.

"By this the members of the Hamilton county delegation will in no wise disparage the distinguished services of Senator Sherman, but will simply express the almost unanimous choice of the Hamilton county republicans."

THE DAY NURSERY.

Mrs. Wm. Bolles, chairman, and Mesdames Dr. Klein, A. M. Woolson, Henry Whitaker and Charles Pratt, committee to select officers to be voted upon by the Day Nursery circle of the King's Daughters, met in the guild room of Trinity church this morning, and perpared their report. The circle is called to meet next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the Central Congregational church, when the report will be presented. All members of the circle and all King's Daughters desiring to join should be present. Officers will be elected at this meeting, and a board of trustees, and arrangements for opening the nursery will probably be completed.

THE AUSTRALIAN BALLOT.

Some of the Mistakes Made in Casting It in Toledo Yesterday.

Were it not for the heavy majorities secured by the republican candidates in the local election yesterday, there might have been room for a contest over the ballots thrown out or destroyed.

It is singular, after all the advice that has been given that so many mistakes could have been made, and it does seem that nearly all the blunders were made by men of more than average intelligence. Here are a few instances:

A prominent republican, desiring to vote for one democrat placed an X before that candidate's name and let his ticket go without another mark.

A well-known Second ward democrat dropped his ticket in without a mark at all.

Quite a large number made the mistake of placing an X before the name of Campbell or McKinley, instead of the name "Democratic" or "Republican."

There were many who got tangled up on the legislative ticket.

But, on the whole, the new system gave eminent satisfaction, and the test yesterday has proved it to be a success.

FOUGHT THE CATHOLICS.

A Religious Contest in the State of Nebraska.

Republicans Combined with A. P. A. and Swept All the Meat Off the Political Platter.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 4.—The American Operative association, an anti-Catholic organization, cast more than 7,000 of the 16,000 votes in the city, and their allies being the republicans here they swept everything before them.

In Omaha and Douglass county the democratic ticket was over 75 per cent. Catholic, and the campaign was waged on this ground.

George F. Bemis is elected mayor of Omaha by 2,500, which is the highest majority.

HERE IS THE TICKET

From Which K. P. Past Chancellors Will Vote for Grand Officers.

The former will be instituted by Grand Keeper of Records, S. A. Court, next Tuesday evening, and on Thursday Dr. L. D. Strutton, of Genoa, will start the lodge at Oak Harbor. Both are live towns, and will prove excellent fields for the spread of Pythianism.

SKIN DARK AS COAL.

Eczema Afflicts a Well-Known Gentleman. Pitiable Subject to Look Upon. Suffered Terribly. Whole Body Covered.

Given Up By San Francisco Doctors. Might Have Saved $600, as He Was Cured for $5 by Cuticura Remedies.

I have many times studied over what CUTICURA has done for me; it has restored me to good health and happiness, for before I tried CUTICURA REMEDIES I was given up by all the doctors in San Francisco; but if I had only taken a certain gentleman's advice and tried CUTICURA REMEDIES sooner, I should certainly have saved from $500 to $600. I was a most pitiable subject to look upon with eczema, and suffered terribly. I was almost as dark as coal from my instep up to my knees on both legs, and after that it broke out all over my body, but after using half a dozen sets of CUTICURA REMEDIES I was perfectly restored to good health, and have enjoyed the same ever since (which is for over two years). A great number of people visit my establishment, and I have told hundreds of people what CUTICURA has done for me, but have thought that I ought to write and let you know, so that you can refer anyone in this county to me.

TOLEDO, OHIO, NOVEMBER 4, 1891.

All hail Massachusetts, democratic two years in succession.

Quayism seems to be potently popular in Pennsylvania.

An excellent man personally, here's to Governor McKinley.

The state Flower for New York was chosen by ballot yesterday.

Now Gov. Foraker and Uncle Sherman, scrap all you please for the senate.

Here is to Governor Boies of Iowa. He made a gallant fight and won a noble victory.

Northwestern Ohio was considerably struck with a cyclone of political destruction yesterday.

Gov. Campbell made a gallant run in Lucas county. If other counties had done as well he would have been elected.

Great will be the tin boom now the champion tin-dipper is governor of Ohio; the tin soldier is marching on the capitol. Watch out!

The public will be interested now in observing how easily and quickly John Sherman will flop Mr. Foraker in the senatorial caucus.

There were surprises in store for everybody, but locally the democrats are astonished at the way the surprises piled up on the wrong side.

The whole country must rejoice at the re-election of Gov. Russell of Massachusetts. It is a victory for equality of rights and good government.

The moneyed monopolists of the east who lobbied the McKinley law through congress have managed to save the author of it from defeat, that's the size of it.

A sufficient number of republicans voted for Harry Dowling to elect him if the democrats had remained in line. But they didn't and the shrievalty goes along with the rest.

New York, Massachusetts and Iowa are democratic. If any republican forecasting for 1892 can find consolation in the news from these three states he is very welcome to it.

The Commercial Gazette editorially predicts that Foraker will be able to capture the legislature. Perhaps Sherman has been caught napping; if so, it is the first time in forty years.

Mr. Griffin commenced his canvass for speaker of the house before he went to bed this morning. Some lively, queer and mysterious combinations will be made but all the time keep your eye on that man Griffin.

Benjamin Harrison and Jimmy Blaine must look for McKinley next year. They will now recall the enthusiasm for the big Ohioan at one stage of the last national republican convention. He might then have been nominated, and, if then, why not next year. He has made a running record since 1888. Napoleon is ambitious.

"Let the people renew their strength; let them come near; then let them speak; let us come near together to judgment."—New York Scripture-quoting organ, the day before election.

The people of New York have spoken, Mister Shepard; did you hear them? They have "renewed their strength," and your blustering, spiteful old organ isn't in it at all.

People who talk about arbitration with Chili apparently forget that it takes at least three parties to constitute an arbitration, those between whom the quarrel exits and the referee who is called in to settle it.—Washington Post.

Well, there's Chili, the United States, and—and—is the United States fallen into such bad odor through its Blaines and McKinleys that it dare not trust its case in the hands of any country in Europe or America?

In all of his speeches ex-Gov. Foraker said he would like to be governor about these days, that he might rip all the public institutions of Ohio. If Gov. McKinley accepts the Forakerian doctrine of upheaval the Toledo institution will soon become another football for politicians. Indeed, it was the boast of the former steward of the institution last night that he will be returned to his old job within six months. And so goes politics. The higher the ball is kicked the livelier the circus.

The majority of Ohio voters have said they want Major McKinley for governor of the state. In this country the majority rule; if they have made a mistaken choice, all must suffer in degree. McKinley was elected by the efforts of the high protectionists of the country who profit by his tax law made at their behest and for their benefit, and the fight against monopoly rule will go on to a finish just the same. Agricultural and erstwhile republican Iowa speaks to be heard; the old Bay state, (where labor is better organized and better informed than in most other localities because it has so many object lessons directly in sight) proclaims victory for justice, and New York carries its flag aloft and is ready for the battle of '92 on the same issue. It is a meagre indorsement the tariff plotters of the last congress have received. McKinley and his followers had a hard fight in a republican state, and with treasure and talent poured in from the outside. Forecasting for '92, the cause for which the true democracy has enlisted is bright with encouragement. Gov. McKinley's one idea of taxation, run almost into insanity, will have no scope in Ohio. There is free trade between the states of the union.

The republicans have elected their governor in Ohio, and he is supported by a legislature sufficiently republican in both branches to make extreme partisan legislation possible. What Gov. McKinley will do with his general assembly is worthy Napoleonic study. The political history of the four recent governors of Ohio points to breakers that surely will be in sight. Gov. Foster's big sixty-fifth general assembly played wrong with the liquor question and the Hoadly administration followed. The sixty-sixth assembly declined to undo the obnoxious legislation and Foraker and his legislative troopers came to victory. The dashing south-hater had a reckless assembly after his own heart and Campbell and a democratic legislature succeeded in defeating them. Evidently the people wanted another change, else the complete overturning of yesterday would not be heralded to-day.

Gov. McKinley has the state and all political power connected with it. Flushed with victory his legislature will likely go on the rampage early in the session. The public institutions will be the prey of the political despoilers and another chapter of ripping will follow in short order. The state will be gerrymandered for congressional purposes, the cities will be overturned for partisan advantage, and everything else will be done that hilarious republican office holders can suggest.

The Governor is welcome to the bed of roses the people have made for him, though he would better examine it well lest there be a few sharp thorns here and there to sorely prick him.

THE CAUSE REMAINS.

A great cause, which survives the battle of ballots, remains distictively the issue before the American people. The election of the author of the present tariff law as governor of a republican state, always republican when a full vote is polled, is by no measure to be considered a victory for the policy of restrictive trade. Though contested upon national lines, and the republican argument being the extreme of the protective theory, the republicans have only held their own here in Ohio. The victory signifies nothing, as the democrats do not hope to cast Ohio's electoral vote for a democratic candidate for president.

The cause itself finds healthy and encouraging results in other states that voted yesterday. New York, under the leadership of Cleveland, Hill and Flower, is soldily and reliably democratic. Massachusetts has made two successive campaigns on the issue of tariff reform and has won two notable victories. These successes establish the old Bay State as good fighting ground for democratic tariff reform in 1892. Iowa also gave a democratic majority yesterday. Though the issue in that state was largely local, there was enough to show the temper of the people. McKinley and other great protection leaders made speeches in Iowa during the campaign. The alliance also made respectable showing against the republican candidate for governor, sufficiently so to indicate a sharp campaign next year upon the issue of all political issues.

Out of the fierceness of the politics of half a dozen states the cause of tariff reform stands unscotched, bright, clear and promising. And as local issues make possibilities for many new men of prominence, so local elections sift the number and prepare the people for the leadership that seems best for the party and country. The scene has shifted several times since Grover Cleveland was defeated in 1888, and new leadership has been suggested by the circumstance of flushed success in a number of states, yet the one name that remains when others go down is the one man who made the issue and himself identical; that one man the leader of democrats, the foremost American citizen. In defeat Grover Cleveland was great. Everything political has since conspired to make his leadership more pronounced. To-day he is the unchallenged leader of his party, the greatest of democrats. The magnificent victory in New York and the splendid success in Massachusetts are largely attributable to the devotion of Grover Cleveland to the cause of Flower and Russell. There remains no doubt as to the position of the Empire state in convention and election next year. Mr. Cleveland will have both.

The cause remains, the man of men remains, and everything points to certain democratic victory in 1892.

We democrats in republican Ohio must not be discouraged because the state is joined to its idols. We must have that hope which is born of faith in the living principles of democracy. We must look beyond the confines of Buckeyedom for victory which surely is in store for the great democratic party of the country. We must also do in Ohio what our fathers and we have done many times before—we must pick up the standard and plant it at the front and make anew the alignment of democracy. We must not be discouraged. We must again rally the half million of democratic voters and be ready for the next campaign.

Ohio democrats may be defeated, but they are never discouraged, and never destroyed. The old party survives and the great cause of tariff reform is stronger to-day than yesterday.

THE GREATEST OF ALL.

The news from New York to-day indicates that the senate will be a political tie. The lieutenant-governor, democrat, will have the casting vote. The house is democratic. If this be true one of the first things the legislature will do will be the reorganization of the legislative districts. More than twenty-five years ago the republicans chanced to elect a majority of the legislature and so gerrymandered the state that though New York has steadily given democratic majorities the two United States senators have been republicans. For the first time the democrats have the opportunity to turn the tables and they should not be slow in doing their duty.

BOSS QUAY'S CASE.

Kerr dealt the last cards and Quay is playing a loan hand.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

If Matthew Stanley Quay shall win all his libel suits against the newspapers he will be one of the richest men in Pennsylvania.—New York Recorder.

Boss Quay has an admirable "forgettery" when he is asked to explain how his name happened to be on one of Bardsley's certificates, upon which $6,000 was secured for the republican campaign fund of 1889.—New York World.

Why should Matthew Stanley Quay be so anxious to find out what government official allowed that Bardsley-Quay check to be photographed, if it is the innocent matter that he claims it to be? His wrath and his assumed innocence do not consist.—Boston Herald.

Matt Quay explains one check signed by Bardsley and indorsed by himself by saying that it was given for campaign expenses in the form of a discount note signed by Mr. Quay and paid, as that statesman alleges, by the republican campaign committee. Mr. Quay is somewhat unfortunate in his explanation in that they do not explain. But he is also fortunate in having a loyal republican senate to "vindicate" him against the wicked attacks of the disloyal Cobdenites who are persecuting him.—Chicago Times.

Mr. Quay says that the Bardsley certificate of deposit represented the amount received from the discount of a note made by him to help the republican campaign fund in 1889. He says that this note was paid, that he has the check with which he satisfied the debt and that the note was returned to him cancelled. But where is the note? It was confessedly made to raise money for political purposes. It must have been drawn to the order of some one. It must bear date somewhere about November 29, and as it ran for four months it must show on its face that it was payable about April 1. Where then is the note?—New York World.

The Jingo Secretary Warned.

As the brains of the republican party the best thing Mr. Blaine can do for himself and the party at present is to back away from the guano beds as fast and as far as possible. Nearly every democratic editor in the country has the Chili-Peru report of the house committee on foreign affairs of August 1, 1882, right where he can get his hands on it in an emergency.—St. Louis Republic.

TAMMANY RULES THE DAY

Comment of the Press on the Election.

What the Eastern Editors Said This Morning.

Various Opinions of the Great Battles on the Battle of the Ballots Which Has Just Passed Into History.

New York, Nov. 4.—The World says editorially, regarding the election that a momentous victory for democracy and good government is won in this state. Tom Platt is beaten in his effort to seize upon the state and rule it as his province. The World assumes that the election means that New York is soundly democratic in national affairs and that it presages the success of the party's presidential candidate in next year's election.

The Press says Fassett was defeated because the republicans above Harlem bridge failed to do their duty. It adds, in view of the good showing made by Fassett in New York city, that there is at least a moral victory in defeat in the knowledge that the citizens of this metropolis are becoming educated to the evils of Tammany rule.

In regard to the election in Ohio the Press says the national administration has been triumphantly upheld. Ohio's verdict indicates a national republican victory on the issue of protection to American industry and sound currency next year.

The Advertiser says the load of Plattism which Fassett was compelled to carry was too heavy. It made many republicans indifferent and caused his defeat.

The Recorder says the people in many of the interior districts were apparently affected by the misrepresentations about responsibility for New York's loss of the world's fair. In New York city, it says, Tammany met with an emphatic popular rebuke.

Of the Ohio victory, the Recorder regards it as of national significance. The issue in that state was fairly made between protection and tariff reform and the national policy triumphed. The battle fought yesterday was the skirmish line of 1892 and has gone as will go the union when the great issue is presented as it was there.

The Tribune says the elections of Tuesday show that the republican party is handsomely regaining its strength, but has not yet gained enough to make sure of success in the presidential contest of next year. It has another year in which to push its advantage.

The Sun says the democratic ticket developed above the Harlem a strength which upset all previous calculations and amounted to nothing less than a political revolution. It attributes this astonishing result not less to the personal popularity of Mr. Flower and the general confidence in his sterling character, than to the melancholy exhibition of moral and intellectual inadequacy which constituted Mr. Fassett's campaign.

The Times says the result of yesterday's election in this state is an unmistakable verdict against the republican party under the leadership of Thomas C. Platt. It adds that the result is something more than a verdict against Plattism. It is a defeat of the republican party on the tariff issue, and will have a controlling force in the contest of next year.

Of the election in Ohio the Times says the majority is hardly large enough to be regarded as a vindication of the peculiar fiscal policy with which McKinley's name is so intimately considered.

The Herald says the election of Mr. Flower will prove a sort of boomerang to the democratic party in the presidential campaign next year, and a blessing in disguise to the republicans. This will be because a large number of democrats who believe in the policies of their party, and under ordinary circumstances throw their whole weight for its support, will be either lukewarm or go over to the republicans with the hope of defeating Tammany. The same battle cry which has been raised in this canvass will become the cry of the future—"Down with Tammany."

A Lasting Shame.

It is a shame to Benjamin Harrison, president of the United States;

To Edward Mitchell, United States district attorney for this city;

To Theodore Roosevelt, of the civil service commission;

And to the officers of the civil service reform association,

That no steps have been taken to punish Postmaster Van Cott and Collector Hendricks, of this city, for their plain and defiant violation of the law which forbids any executive officer of the United States to "either directly or indirectly" "solicit or receive" contributions for political purposes from employes of the government.—New York World.

The Cabinet is Big Enough.

Now, what does the Amerian Public Health association want of a secretary of health in the president's cabinet? The newspapers might as well ask for a secretary of the press, or Ignatius Donnelly for a secretary of Shakespearean cryptograms. Expensive official machinery and added dignity will not promote public health any better than the present arrangements, which smack less of centralization. By virtue of a prior request a secretary of labor would be the next addition to the cabinet, anyway. But the line must be drawn somewhere and eight departments are enough.—Buffalo Express.

Our Sentiments.

The governor of Tennessee has offered a reward of $25 apiece for the capture of the 350 convicts liberated by the Briceville miners. Rewards will also be offered for the arrest and conviction of the participators in the attack upon the stockades, and the military are held in readiness for duty at a moment's notice. All this may be necessary to uphold the dignity of the law, but it will not alter the fact that the law is an outrage upon honest labor and a disgrace to the state.—Indianapolis News.

Free Men and Free Thought.

The Andover case will now pass into history as one more futile attempt of conservatism to block the progress of scholarship and free thought in religious studies. There are several things in this world which cannot be done, and among them is the binding of the human mind in theological leading-strings that will not break. It appears to be necessary, however, for each generation to learn this fact for itself.—Providence Journal.

Rudyard Will Please Answer.

Where is Rudyard Kipling? English papers claim that he is on the way to the South Sea Islands, while New York journals claim that he is in that city and may be seen any day rambling around Union Square. Will Mr. Kipling say which is which and who is the other?—Philadelphia Times.

Or On Political Bedfellows.

To hear republican France crying "vive le Czar"—the head of the most ruthlessly tyrannical government in the world—is a good commentary on the orthodoxy of republican love for freedom.—Toronto Empire.

A Long Wait.

One million two hundred and fifty thousand dollars' worth of bullion left London yesterday for America. Hold out your hands and wait your turns quietly, all of you.—Louisville Commercial.

NEW NATIONAL BANK.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The Melrose National bank of Melrose, Mass., has failed, through John M. Howard of New York and associates, an application for authority to organize a nadional bank. The treasury department to-day redeemed $50,100 4 1-2 per cent. bonds, making the amount redeemed to date $21,066,050 and leaving outstanding $4,438,650.

PEACE CONGRESS.

Rome, Nov. 4.—The peace congress opened to-day, Signor Blanchert presiding. M. Maillefeu, a French delegate, addressed the meeting and was followed by Herr Baumbach, of Germany, both speaking in the interest of universal peace.

IT WILL BE A SUCCESS.

The Cooking Class at the Manual Training School.

It is demonstrated that the opportunity offered by the trustees of the Manual Training school for working girls to learn to cook in evening classes will be acted upon by a large number. There were 14 pupils enrolled last evening, and a number more were ready to join if the time could be changed from Tuesday to Monday evening. This change was made last night, and hereafter, beginning next week, the class will meet on Monday evening.

Miss Campbell gave those present last evening a brief but very interesting talk upon "boiling," and next Monday night these pupils will have a practical lesson in this department of cooking. For one more week pupils will be received, after that the class will be closed for this year.

All who cannot cook, and who cannot find time and opportunity for day lessons, should avail themselves of this opportunity, which is a golden one. Among those enrolled last night were a stenographer, a copyist, a proof reader, several sewing girls, and the rest were in domestic service.

Every one interested can come to next Monday's meeting. Should more report than can join one class, a second one will be formed. All who desire to join should bring an apron and a cap, towel and soap and the first half of the payment for the term, $1.50. The fall term will be 16 lessons, one a week; the fall tuition is $3,one-half to be paid in advance. The teachers are Miss Marion Smith and Miss Matilda Campbell, the young ladies who teach the day cooking class of High school girls.

IOWA IS DEMOCRATIC.

Gov. Boies Re-Elected by a Handsome Plurality.

A Large Vote Out, But the Republicans Could Not Take the Control Away from the Democrats.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 4.—The most exciting state election in the history of Iowa has closed. In Des Moines the democrats commenced firing their cannon before a single precinct had finished its balloting. The republicans were not as demonstrative but just as confident of victory. The most remarkable thing is the increase in the vote cast over last year and two years ago. All reports received indicate the heaviest vote ever cast in the state.

The weather has been disagreeable in many parts of the state, but it has probably not decreased the vote. The interest taken has been so intense that no unfavorable weather could keep the people from voting.

There were four tickets in the field. Early in the campaign it looked as if the Farmers' alliance or the people's party would seriously complicate the election.

The republicans anticipated this movement by the placing in nomination a farmer for governor and a farmer for lieutenant governor. Mr. Wheeler, the candidate for governor, is one of the most successful farmers in the state.

He had for years been closely identified with the state agricultural society and was a republican of good as well as long standing. He is neither a politician nor a speech-maker. He has made a canvass unique in Iowa politics, instead of talking to the people from the stump, he has met them in the reception room.

His tour of the state took him into a majority of the counties where he has been shaking hands for nearly three months and his record in this respect is perhaps unequaled in state politics. He further placed himself in communication with the people by conducting a letter bureau. He has written more personal letters to his supporters than all the other candidates who have run for governor of Iowa.

The democrats have severely criticized his campaign methods, but they have been very popular with the farmers, who have certain admiration for a candidate who, like themselves, is not a polished speech-maker.

Boies Elected.

Dubuque, Ia., Nov. 4.—Quite full returns from all over the state received at the Herald (dem.) office up to 2 o'clock this morning indicate the election of Gov. Boies by a decided majority. Nearly all the cities in the state gave either decided gains or hold their own over two years ago, when Boies was elected by 6,700 in the state. Some of the interior counties show gains for Wheeler, but it is conceded they can not overcome the majority of two years ago.

To Be Given the Supreme Master Workman of the A. O. U. W.

At Memorial hall to-night will occur the grand public reception to be given Supreme Master Workman Kingsley, of the A. O. U. W., whose home is in Helena, Montana. Past Supreme Master Workman Warren Wilson, of Detroit, and Grand Master Workman Herman, of Ohio, will also be here, and these three gentlemen make a trio of very excellent speakers who will address the audience. Grand Recorder Walter Pickens, of this city, will preside, with Mr. Herman Baumbach as vice president of the meeting.

It may not be because of the present quarrel, but some time or other the United States will have to fight Chili. That is the one country in the world which for years has been aching to get licked by us.—Buffalo Express.

Of course Chili will apologize, pay damages, and punish the rioters. She has no alternative, if the United States government persists in its demand. When this has been done, the junta should peremptorily demand the recall of Pat Egan, on the ground that he is persona non grata.—St. Louis Republic.

THE MISERY OF BALDHEADS.

Thousands of Dollars Spent Annually to Make the Hair Grow.

"I make a good deal of money out of baldheaded men," said the barber to a New York Sun man. "It is true that I do not know of any way to make hair grow on a bald head; but although I honestly say to every customer who asks my opinion exactly what I believe, it has been my unvarying experience that no baldheaded man gives up without a long and expensive series of experiments the hope of one day seeing his hair restored. No matter how many other baldheads he may know, or what variety of unsuccessful attempts he may have seen to make hair grow where it has once disappeared, each baldheaded man seems determined to make all the trials for himself. He thinks he may succeed where others failed, and does not begrudge the expense.

"I have seen a barber whose head was as destitute of hair as a marble-top table unblushingly recommend a hair tonic or hair restorer or invigorator as certain to make the hair grow. The baldheaded man does not ask the question why the barber has not tried it on his own billiard ball, but confidingly purchases bottle after bottle in the vain hope of making up for nature's deficiencies.

"There is a little fuzz that grows on many bald heads that causes a good deal of delusion. Seeing and feeling this fuzz the baldheaded man thinks his new crop is coming surely. He reasons that if this fuzz is shaved it will come out stronger, so he has his head carefully shaved. Then the fuzz comes out again. But it is still a fuzz and it continues to be a fuzz and never gets to be anything but a fuzz.

"Now, knowing all this, the barber can not be so blind to his own interests as to go very far out of his way to convince the hopeful and trusting baldheads who do not know it, and who insist upon learning by expensive experience. It is no particular harm for a baldheaded man to keep on trying first one thing and then another. It amuses him and is profitable to the barber.

"There is a baldness that comes from sickness, especially from scarlet fever or typhoid fever, when the hair falls out and the head becomes bare for a brief period. But in such cases it is no art of the barber and no mere concoction of materials that makes the hair come in again. It is the remedial effort of nature. The hair would come back in such cases without the use of any pigments or ointments. It is possible that in many such cases the fact that the hair did come back at a time when some particular ointment was used led to the belief that it was the ointment that did the work, although the truth was that the hair would have come back without any ointment of any kind.

"Men are generally more disposed than women to experiment on bald heads. One reason of this is that men can not wear false hair so securely as women do, but rather with greater risk of detection.

"Any one who could really compel a growth of hair on all bald heads would secure an immense fortune and the gratitude of mankind. A similar fortune and gratitude awaits the man who can prevent the growth of hair where it is not wanted."

THE OBLIGING FERRY HAND.

To the many thousands of Gothamites that have some time in their lives had the irrevocable gate shut in their faces by the relentless ferry hand and to the many that believe they have been discerned approaching and were merely beaten in a hot race as to which should get to the gate first, irrespective of a half minute or more of the scheduled time, this episode of unusual consideration may seem like bungling with fiction.

It was certainly the first, and in all likelihood only deviation of the kind on record, and the heroine was one of the handsomest brides that ever started over the Pennsylvania railroad on her wedding tour.

The marriage had occurred the day previous, and although the young couple were presumed to start at once over the route laid out, the nuptial night had been spent in one of the fashionable New York hotels. The happy pair were very desirous of catching the morning train for the west, but through the stupidity of the hackman it was a question whether they would reach the slip in time.

Hurrying through the ferry house, her face flushed with happiness and excitement, she found the big sliding door had all but shut. Coincident with her exclamation of disappointment the gate slammed before her face.

Peering through the lattice-work of the upper portion of the barrier, she called to the ferry hand:

"Oh, sir, do please let us through. I promise you we will hurry aboard ever so fast."

"Can't do it, mum" this without looking around).

"But we are on our wedding tour,, (at this he approached the gate again) "and it is so unlucky to make a bad beginning!"

"Nope, 'gainst the rules" (then he looked through and saw her.) "Well, I don't know, perhaps—

"Oh, do, please. There I see you will!"

"I say, Jim (this to the deck hand), "hold her a minute!"

Then the gate was pushed back about two feet, and he rewarded himself with a good look at the pretty face he had but imperfectly seen through the slats. After the couple hastened aboard the boat, the proud and smiling groom, as the wheels began to move, tossed over the narrow breach between the bridge and the boat a silver dollar with the suggestion:

"Go buy yourself some cigars, my good fellow!"

"Nope," was the response, "I'll drink the health of the bride.

"And then when that daisy kissed her hand to me, I felt glad I was livin, to have done her a good turn!" is the way the obliging ferry hand always winds up the narrative.

TASTELESS ODORLESS A FOOD REMEDY

Why Preferable to Cod Liver Oil?

Because it is both food and medicine; fish and other animal oils are solely foods. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is a food, tonic, and alterative, and the greatest appetite, flesh, and strength producer known. It will relieve and cure the cough of Bronchitis and Consumption, is not unpleasant to take, almost as tasteless as water, acceptable to the weakest stomach, and does not nauseate or distress the patient as Cod Liver Oil is sure to do. It is doing more to save life than any other remedy in

THE COMING MAN.

A pair of very chubby legs,
Incased in scarlet hose;
A pair of little chubby boots,
With rather doubtful toes;
A little kilt, a little coat,
Cut as a mother can—
And lo! before us stands in state
The future's coming man.

His eyes, perchance, will read the stars,
And search their unknown ways;
Perchance the human heart and soul
Will open to their gaze;
Perchance their keen and flashing glance
Will be a nation's light—
Those eyes that now are wistful bent
On some big fellow's kite.

Those hands—those little busy hands—
So sticky, small and brown;
Those hands whose only mission seems
To pull all order down—
Who knows what hidden strength may be
Hidden within their clasp,
Though now 'tis but a taffy stick
In sturdy hold they grasp.

Ah, blessings on those little hands,
Whose work is yet undone!
And blessings on those little feet,
Whose race is yet unrun!
And blessings on the little brain
That has not learned to plan!
Whate'er the future holds in store
God bless the coming man!

Some genius has weighed some musquitoes on a sensitive balance and finds the average weight of one musquito was 1.27 milligrammes; that is, it would take 360,000 to weigh a pound. In musical circles there is a growing opposition to the "encore fiend," who is always sure to make his appearance at concerts. It is proposed that the words "No encores" shall be printed in big type on concert programs, and that managers shall adhere to the rule. Not long ago an encore fiend managed to hold an audience in a concert hall for over an hour beyond the time at which the concert was to end.

The old Virginia gentleman "of the old school" is often a very pleasant person and can do things altogether gracious. The late William Henry Fitzhugh Lee was greatly given to presenting his friends in the house with roses from his Virginia greenhouses. The flowers were brought to the cloak room, a Washington correspondent says, by the barrelful; and as a large proportion of them were a deep red the house would in an hour or two assume a carmine hue from the decorations on desks and coat lapels.

The syndicate that was formed in Germany last summer for the purpose of establishing colonies of German farmers in Alabama has procured a tract of land in that state. The work of enrolling the colonists is in progress in Germany, and it is reported that a body of them will be ready to take their departure for Alabama next month. If the first colony, which is to be in Washington county, is successful, other colonies will be rapidly organized, so that within a few years the state may have a large German population.

THE STAR COURSE

Successfully Opened by the Whitney Mackridge Concert.

Shenandoah Starts a Military Craze—Jim Corbett Coming with Brady's After Dark Company.

The Star course had a very successful opening at the Wheeler Opera house last evening by the Whitney Macridge Concert company, and they were greeted with a packed house. This concert company is one of exceptional excellence led by Mr. Mackridge, and every member of the company is well worthy to support him.

The tenor of Mr. Whitney Mackridge is rich, pure and very pleasing as well as strong. Mr. Arthur Beresford has a voice of great strength and power. The singing of Mrs. Mayo-Rhodes was something of a pleasant surprise, and the violin solos by Miss Belle Warner Botsford showed a talent far above the ordinary.

The next entertainment of the course will be a lecture by Major Henry C. Dane on Tuesday evening, November 17.

Jim Corbett with After Dark.

The sporting fraternity of this city will soon have an opportunity of judging of the merits of the famous pugilist, Jim Corbett, as he will be seen here at the People's theater with Wm. A. Brady's After Dark company on November 9. Great interest has been manifested in Corbett since his appearance in the east, and it seems to be the prevailing opinion among competent judges that he is the equal, if not the superior, of any living pugilist. Corbett is known as the "gentlemanly fighter," a title that he earned in his numerous battles in San Francisco. Some weeks ago he posted a forfeit with the New York Herald of $10,000 as a guarantee of his ability to whip any pugilist in the world. No one seems to show the disposition to cover the sum, and it would appear that both Mitchell and Slavin, who announced their intention some time ago of returning to this country for the purpose of seeking a match, have indefinitely postponed their trip to avoid the issue.

Caught the Ladies.

It is said that in many cities the popularity of Shenandoah has started quite a military craze among young ladies in society. Some of them affect the dress and manner of Jenny Buckthorn, U. S. A., the vivacious and soldierly young daughter of a union general, while others affect the manner without the dress. Military terms of speech are also rapidly becoming popular, while the erect military bearing, though newly acquired, is accomplishing a great deal in the way of adding grace and healthful vigor to the many charms of the girls. Toledo ladies will have an opportunity of judging the merits of this Friday and Saturday evenings.

DEPOSITORS ARE ALARMED.

The Maverick Failure is Far Reaching.

Apparently Sound Banks Are In Trouble and Serious Results May Follow

London, Nov. 4.—Notwithstanding the announcement by Chairman Chapin, of the savings bank commissioners yesterday that none of the savings banks of the state can be involved in the failure of the Maverick National bank, the depositors in the various savings banks have shown some little anxiety.

During to-day a number of depositors have drawn their money from the Five Cents Savings bank, which institution is said to be among the soundest in the city, and without a dollar in issue with either of the recent subjects of financial excitement here.

The statement of the bank's standing made to the trustees on the second Wednesday in October shows the nominal net surplus to be $1,234,468, and the actual net surplus according to market value of securities of the bank to be $1,655,392.

A WAR OF WORDS.

Interesting Scenes in the Trial of Woodruff.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 4.—In the trial of Ex-State Treasurer Woodruff a breeze of excitement was occasioned by a sharp exchange of words between Judge Lea and Attorney John M. Moore, of counsel for defense.

Mr. Moore became angry because of certain questions that the judge propounded to witness and said the court appeared inclined to act the part of examiner as well as judge.

Judge Lea cautioned Mr. Moore as to his language and said if he wished to object to any question he could do so in a proper manner. A wordy battle ensued and lasted for a few minutes, after which the taking of testimony was resumed.

All are colored, and were found hiding at the foot of the hills in the eastern part of the city, near Overbeck's brewery. The men are now in jail here, and Tennessee authorities have been notified of the capture.

Nervous Debility.

Those suffering from Nervous Debility, the symptoms of which are a dull distressed mind, which unfits them for performing business and social duties; make happy marriages impossible, distress the action of the heart, causing flushes of heat, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, cowardice, fear, dreams, short breathings, melancholy, tire easily of company and have a preference to be alone; feeling as tired in the morning as when retiring; lost manhood, white bone deposits in the urine, nervousness, trembling, confusion of thoughts, watery and weak eyes, dyspepsia, constipation, paleness, pain and weakness in the limbs, etc., should consult us immediately and be restored to health. By a wise course of treatment, adapted to your age, sex and physical condition, the tone of your system can be raised, the tendency to impure thoughts removed, and the strength and vigor of health restored to the debilitated organs.

Marriage.

Married persons or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualifications, speedily relieved. He who places himself under our care may confide in our honor as gentlemen, and confidently rely on our skill as Physicians. We have had many years experience in hospitals and private practice and are graduates of the most eminent Medical Colleges of the U. S.

Organal Weakness

Immediately cured and full vigor restored. This distressing affliction which renders life a burden and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by victims of improper indulgence. The most chaste must acknowledge that the passions are the great magnet by which the whole world is attracted. Destroy them and what have we? Man is no longer interested in the opposite sex; the interchange of that blissful repose which attracts and interests the whole world, exists no longer; man ceases to be what God made him; the world is no longer interesting to him, and remorse and disappointment are his constant companions. We have devoted years to the study of the best methods of treating the various forms in which this disease manifests itself. We treat every case on its own merits; and thousands to day join in thanking us for the new lease of life and happiness our skill has opened up to them.

Young Men who have become victims of SOLITARY VICE—that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave, thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with full confidence.

We address all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for business, study, society or marriage.

THE LOCAL CONTEST.

Entire Republican County Ticket Elected

By Majorities Ranging From Five to Sixteen Hundred—The Senators and Judge Mills Go with the Rest.

The campaign in Lucas county resulted rather dissatisfactorily to the democrats. Notwithstanding the fact that the party had before the people one of the best tickets ever nominated, the republicans got out their forces, and as a result, to use a common phrase, the local democracy is "in the soup."

Returns came in very slowly last evening, and for a time it looked as if there was a fighting chance, but as later figures were received it was plainly evident that "the same old coon" was in the saddle, and democrats put in their time trying to multiply Dr. Van Pelt into the coroner's office.

Where the methods and means employed are so well known, it is scarcely necessary to go over the ground in explanation. The republican committee had a mint of money. Since the nomination of the ticket a large contingent has been laboring assiduously in almost every direction for its success. Laboring men with "influence," white and colored orators—in fact, anything that could be utilized—were put to work on regular per diem, and each element was engaged in a contest to see which could outdo the other.

On the democratic side, it was impossible to form an organization save by voluntary labor, as the committee was without funds to pay even the ordinary expenses. The members did the best they could, but practical politicians, to say nothing about the general run of people, will at once admit that without the wherewithal progress is exceedingly slow. As is always the case, it is possibly now apparent where this or that thing might have been done to help secure a victory, but there is "no use crying over spilled milk," and it is better for all purposes that there be agreement on the point that the best was done.

A local democrat may be excused for feeling blue, but when the national democracy is considered, he has abundant reason to be jubilant. In other words, on general results, democrats have greater cause for joy than republicans. The latter have carried the republican state of Ohio, while the former have made democratic some of the most important republic states.

To sum up briefly it may be stated that the republican county ticket was elected by majorities ranging from five to sixteen hundred, as follows:

Representatives—C. P. Griffin, C. A. Flickinger, O. P. Heller.
Treasurer—Samuel Hunter.
Sheriff—John B. Stuart.
Commissioner—Jacob Englehardt.
Coroner—Dr. S. W. Beckwith.
Infirmary director—W. W. Coder.

Estimates from the different counties comprising the judicial and senatorial districts indicate the defeat of Judge Mills and Senator Ryan and John Canary, though the official vote may allow the two latter to score.

There is a small majority in the county recorded in favor of the taxation amendment and also for the constitutional convention, but the necessary affirmative vote will not be reached.

The proposition to issue bonds for park purposes in Toledo is carried without doubt.

Common Pleas Judge.

The following is an estimate of the majorities in each county for common pleas judge:

	Mills, D.	Kelly, R.
Erie	229	....
Huron	....	1100
Lucas	....	1200
Sandusky	600	....
Ottawa	1000	....

For State Senators.

The estimated majorities of the vote for state senators is as follows:

	Ryan, D.	C'nry, D.	Rorick R.	M'Cn'ca R.
Fulton	....	....	1000	950
Hancock	....	....	350	350

Notes From the Local Scrap.

John Weckerly met his first defeat yesterday.

Well, Sheriff Stuart pulled through, after all.

Moses Math is mentioned for state librarian.

A rain machine would have done the business.

Democrats are already in line for the next bout.

The Central avenue stone road report may come now.

Lucas county republicans were scared, to say the least.

The old democratic party is still in the ring, and don't forget it.

A hegira to Massachusetts is being considered by local democrats.

Flickinger will at once proceed to even up with ex-Governor Foraker.

It was 10 o'clock before returns began to arrive at the board of elections.

"We've met the enemy and we are theirs." And it is not the first time, either.

It is evident that the democrats of Lucas county were not in it to any great extent.

Never mind saying anything about Lucas county politics. The subject is tiresome.

The Australian ballot worked first rate—for republicans. It is a good law, however.

President Squire will be early on the ground to look after that railroad commissionership.

Democrats last evening found great consolation in the reports from New York and Iowa.

The boys routed Sheriff Stuart out of bed and compelled him to come down town to celebrate his re-election.

History repeats itself: One term seems to be the full length of time a democrat can hold down the gubernatorial chair.

It is no worse than it was at the court house. With the exception of cornor all are old faces, candidates for re-election.

A prominent physician was so radically republican that he marked his ticket and then deliberately cut it out and tried to vote.

The postoffice force was at the board of elections early in the evening and remained at their post until nearly the close.

The Fifth ward gave Governor Campbell over 200 majority. This ward is fast regaining its title as "the old reliable."

Fourth ward democrats were in line for the re-election of Governor Campbell, and gave him a handsome majority.

A ticket marked with a blue pencil was submitted to the board of elections evidently an editor's work, who said it rained yesterday?

Many voters made the mistake they were cautioned against—marking the head of the ticket, and the rest of the candidates suffered.

Canton will be the mecca for the politicians for the next 60 days. Major McKinley will find it congenial to have business in Washington.

'Twas a cold day—for the democrats. Toledo laboring men do not appear to be very anxious to support one of their number for the legislature.

The democratic committee was compelled to run a poverty campaign, which was not the case by a long shot with the republican managers.

The big milk can ballot boxes were none too large for the new tickets, for in some precincts they were filled as full as they would hold.

Charley Griffin will enter the contest for speaker of the house. It is well for the other candidates to remember that he is no spring chicken, either.

A great many voters made sure of their ballots. Tickets showed up with the head and every candidate marked, and both yes and no for the amendments.

Lucas county's three republican representatives will now have to show their hand on the senatorial question. Griffin is for Foraker. How about Flickinger and Heller?

Toledo will furnish a full quota of applicants for positions under Governor McKinley. President Squire's indorsement will be necessary, boys. He is the mogul of all the clubs.

In a number of precincts ballots were voted perfectly blank, without a cross before any name, and several were voted that only had crosses before the constitutional questions.

Secretary H. E. King handles business in good style at the board of election rooms, and is always obliging and accommodating to all. The press is under obligations to him for courtesies extended.

A big contingent of republicans, including candidates Griffin, Flickinger, Englehardt and Hunter, were on hand at the board of election rooms last evening and figured on the returns. In the early part of the evening the crowd was very nervous and did not say much. City or state returns did not begin to come in until 10 o'clock, and in the meantime the democratic reports from other states had them badly rattled.

The election boards in the different precincts did not all take the same action on several technical points. In some precincts ballots that were marked with a blue lead pencil were thrown out and in others they were counted. In some precincts where ballots only had one cross on the ballot and that before the name of the governor these tickets were counted straight through, and in others they were only counted for the head of the ticket.

The Australian system of voting was carried on in this city yesterday without a hitch, and the vote was polled much faster than expected. The counting of the ballots was also done with neatness and dispatch, and did not take but little longer than under the old system. But very few questions on technical points came in to the board of elections. It was the opinion of the prominent republicans assembled at the election board that the system was a good thing after all.

IS THE WILL VOID?

Heirs of the Hardy Estate in Court.

They Allege the Deceased Was Not Mentally Able to Distribute His Property—Other Points Raised.

In common pleas court to-day Wm. R. Hardy and James G. W. Hardy, children of James G. Hardy, deceased, filed a suit against Celia M. Hardy, child of James G. Hardy; Ellen N., Minerva C. and James G. Hardy, children of Wm. R. Hardy, and the Indiana Baptist state convention, of Marion, Ind., in contest of the will of the late James G. Hardy.

The petition states that on March 7, 1891, papers purporting to be the last will and testament, bearing the date of November 7, 1887, and a codicil thereto bearing the date of June 26, 1888, was presented and admitted to probate; that on March 14, 1891, the parties nominated as executors and trustees by the alleged will filed in probate court a written refusal to serve, and that on March 16, 1891, letters of administration with the will annexed were granted to the defendant, Minerva C Hardy and Clayton W. Everett, who thereupon entered upon the discharge of their duties.

By the terms of this will the plaintiffs and defendants are named as legatees of the deceased.

The petition avers that Minerva C. Hardy appeared in probate court June 16, 1891, and declined to accept the provisions made for her by theinstrument filed as the will, preferring to take such distributive share of the personal estate as might appear to be due to her.

The plaintiff states that James G. Hardy died seized in fee simple of valuable real estate in Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Kansas; that at the time of his death the la wof Indiana provided that a second or subsequent wife, if there were children by a former wife, should take only a life estate in her deceased husband's lands, unless she should have children by such husgand living; that at this time the law of Kansas provided that one-half of all the real estate to which the husband at any time during marriage had a legal or equitable interest, which had not been sold on execution, or other judicial sale, and not necessary for the payment of debts, and of which the wife had made no conveyance, except as to land conveyed by the husband whose wife never resided in the state, should go to the widow in fee simple.

That at this time the law of Michigan provided that a widow should have the use during her natural life of the one-third part of all the lands and tenements whereof her husband was seized of an estate of an inheritance at any time during coalture.

The petition sets forth that the value of the entire estate of the deceased, after deducting the value of the dower and other rights of the widow, is less than $130,000, which is wholly insufficient to satisfy the other provisions made in the pretended will.

It further says that by terms of this will it is provided that the plaintiffs each shall receive the net income of $50,000 worth of property, and on their death the share of each should be vested in the heirs at law.

That the executors named in the will should pay to each of the defendants,Celia M., Elena N., Minerva C. and James M., Eleva N., Minervia C. and James G. Hardy the net income of $25,000 worth of property, and that upon any of the heirs attaining the age of 25 years the principal should be paid over. It further provided that the trustees should also pay to Elena N. Hardy $10,300 for her support and education.

The petition further states that the codicil provided that the will should be originally probated in Tippecanoe county, Indiana, which county should be considered the last residence of the deceased.

The plaintiffs allege that by the statutes of Indiana the entire personal estate of the deceased would have descended to them in equal proportions. They say that the codicil is not the last will and testament of James G. Hardy, but that at the date on which the paper was written, November 7, 1887 for several years prior thereto and at all times thereafter during his lifetime, James G. Hardy was not of sound and disposing mind and memory, but that by reason of extreme age and sickness was non compos mentis and wholly incapacitated from making a will or of directing or making a proper disposition of his property.

They therefore pray that an issue be made as to whether the paper writing is the last will of James G. Hardy, and that the same be set aside and declared null and void.

TOLEDO CAMERA CLUB.

The Toledo Camera club was organized last December with 22 members and has at present 50. Last Monday evening a meeting was held at room 12, Hubbard block, and the following officers were elected: President, S. C. Wade; vice-president, Rev. Charles Scadding; secretary and treasurer, M. A. Martin. This evening there will be a lantern-slide exhibit, 100 views from the White mountain being given. The club will make a set of lantern slides of Toledo and vicinity which will be sent to the Lantern Slide Interchange. The club will do this kind of work during the winter.

ASTRIDE A SHARK.

Daring Feat of a Swimming Teacher in a California Port.

That a man should take a ride on a live shark's back, apparently with all the delight of a wild cowboy breaking an unruly mustang, would be difficult to believe unless circumstances were presented to verify it, says the San Francisco Chronicle. Such an occurrence has really taken place, however, and at so short a distance from San Francisco that any doubting Thomas can easily satisfy himself by making a personal investigation.

For the last few years the fishermen in the northern part of Monterey bay, near Santa Cruz, have been greatly annoyed by basking sharks. These sharks, while in search of food, often run into the nets of fishermen, and, in thrashing about and trying to escape from the meshes which enfold them, tear the nets and injure them, so that the fishermen at times suffer the loss of hundreds of dollars. Sometimes a shark struggles about so much in the water as to wrap the nets around it in such a manner that escape is impossible, and the huge fish dies from the exhaustion produced by its wild efforts to get free. To extricate the dead fish from the nets it is sometimes necessary to tow it ashore, and to recover part of the loss sustained in the destruction of the nets the fishermen fry out the liver of the shark and obtain a quantity of cheap but profitable oil.

A huge basking shark, about thirty or forty feet long, became entangled in the nets of some fishermen off Soquel point, about four miles from Santa Cruz. The shark, still alive and folded in the nets, was towed by the fishermen in boats to the wharf at Capitola. Its arrival created great excitement among the visitors at that resort. The fact that sharks, any sharks, were near the beach drove hundreds of bathers from the water, and people began to make up their minds to leave the place. No amount of assurance on the part of the proprietors of the hotel or fishermen that basking sharks were no man-eaters, and that many had been caught with no accident happening, could entirely quiet the fears of the visitors, and bathing was almost given up.

Some ocular demonstration of the fact that a basking shark was harmless therefore became necessary. Swimming Teacher Swanson of the Capitola baths then determined to give an exhibition with the shark which should convince the most timid. A performance followed, the like of which no man ever participated in before. Swanson put on a bathing suit and swam to the wharf where the partially exhausted monster lay, still partially wrapped in torn and tangled fishing nets. Slowly approaching the gasping yet enraged monster, a whale in size if not in species, Swanson swam close to its side, and then clambered slowly on top—a moderately easy task to accomplish, as the shark lay almost entirely under water. Sitting astride the huge fish like a baby on an elephant, the bold swimmer shouted in triumphant derision at the several hundred people on the wharf who had gathered to witness the strange performance.

His song of success was quickly cut short, for as soon as the lazy shark realized it had gathered something more on its back it began to thrash about and threw Swanson off. Women in the crowd shrieked in fear and men held their breath in excitement. It was hardly a minute, however, before Swanson appeared unharmed and laughing outside of the line of foam caused by the shark's struggles. The crowd on the wharf breathed more freely when they saw the man emerge from the seething waters and realized that he had not been devoured, as they expected him to be. The undaunted swimmer again went to the side of the shark, and once more mounted his marine steed. The shark again showed its fear and anger by shaking him off, but not so violently as before. With great persistence Swanson again climbed on the monster.

What seemed before to the many spectators a most foolhardy act, and but the courtship of a certain death, now became a strangely comical sight. Swanson mounted the fish, and the shark, becoming accustomed to its queer burden, merely rolled the man off each time he got on his back, simply turning lazily in the water and shaking himself. This was repeated several times, and the large crowd of people who came expecting to see a man killed and eaten departed laughing at the ludicrous ending of the performance. Swanson became the hero of the camp. Bathing was resumed and even more freely indulged in as a consequence of the exhibition, and no one can now be found in Cape Capitola who will admit that they fear a shark, or a basking shark at least.

SUGGESTIONS FROM THOMAS.

He Would Charge a Fee for Admission to Musical Performances.

Theodore Thomas has submitted a report to the committee on liberal arts. The musical director recommends that an extra admission fee be charged at concerts on the grounds. He also announced a plan to encourage the production of a new national hymn. To this end he proposes to invite the best known American poets to compete.

Mr. Thomas urges the need of forming a fine orchestra and a military band for service throughout the fair. The vocal forces now being organized and trained in Chicago for fair purposes are as follows: The Appolo club, 500 voices; Festival chorus, 700 voices; Columbian club (male voices), 150 voices; Children's choir, 1,500 voices; German chorus (children and adults), 2,000 voices; Sweden chorus, 1,000 voices, and Welsh, 500 voices; total, 6,350 voices.

Mr. Thomas believes that, both from local pride and economy, the great orchestra of 100 performers should be a Chicago orchestra. The Chicago Military band should be a magnificent one of 80 men which on state occasions should appear complete for the honor of the city, but which ordinarily should divide into two bands of 40 each.

The musical director's ideas of what the auditorium ought to be are summed up this way: It should have a close-seated accommodation for not more than 2,000 people, and a stage capacity for an orchestra of 100 players, a chorus of 300 singers and a good sized organ. At the back there should be a large assembly-room for the performers, which on occasion may be utilized as a recital hall, holding not more than 500 persons. Its location, the wooded island; in form, an oblong structure arranged as an amphitheater, the rising seats carried still higher at one end and with an overarching sound-board. The long, level space in the center left free for spectacle, yet so adapted that seats for an audience may be arranged for festival purposes. This building is also designed for use in connection with the stock exhibit to be held late in August or late in September. If festivals of different nationalities are given they must in repitition build up to a climax. And the climax should be an American gathering and should occur during the last month—October. This may interfere with the present stock exhibit arrangement, which, it is said, is to take possession in August. Probably the building may be released one week or more in the months of September and October.—Chicago Times.

A NEW GAME.

Very Likely You May Want to Try It Some Winter Evening.

A new social game was played this summer at our hotel in the mountains. It consisted simply in taking titles of books and representing each title by a picture, by a drawing, or by some arrangement of objects so that it could be guessed from them, somewhat after the manner of rebus.

Of course the one who guessed correctly the greatest number of titles took the first prize. There was also a second and a "booby" prize.

About 30 took part in this game, though the number could have been extended indefinitely. Fifty titles had been selected by the hostess, and their representations carefully prepared.

Each player having been provided with a paper on which there were 50 blanks for these titles, at the signal we entered the room where the objects and pictures were displayed.

But it was no easy task to solve all the puzzles before us. Some titles were known at once, others remained unguessed to the end.

Among the objects and titles were such as these:

A candle on a map of Asia represented "The Light of Asia."

A large white cardboard with a figure 2 on it was "We Two."

A picture of a mill dam, and a white bead on the top of the picture, was "Adam Bede."

A little ladder, with a toy monkey on the top round, and a toy man at the foot, was "The Descent of Man."

The word sin in red ink was "A Cardinal Sin."

The sheet music of "Yankee Doodle" was "American Notes."

An O half concealed in a bunch of ferns was "Inferno."

A toy donkey, an O and some tea leaves was Donkey-o-t—"Don Quixote."

Some vocal music thrust through the handles of several keys was "Songs in Many Keys."

A pie upon some ears of corn was "Pioneers."

A burnt-out candle in a candlestick was "The Light that Failed."

Some dolls in ball costume, rouging their faces before a mirror, was "Modern Painters."

Some half dollars, quarters and dimes was "The American Commonwealth."

And so the titles ran on, some difficult, some causing much fun, and all interesting.

The possibilities of this game are seen at a glance. With brightness and ingenuity many very puzzling and amusing effects can be worked up.

There are two good rules to be enforced. The time for guessing should be limited, and communication while guessing strictly forbidden, else the first prize is likely to go to some one who has been assisted by the guesses of others, and the conscientious player has no chance.

Other adaptations of this game might be the titles of poems, quotations, etc., etc. But the best seems to be in titles of standard or reasonably well known, not obscure, books.

NUMBER OF JEWS IN NEW YORK.

The real history of the Jews of New York began about half a century ago, when the comparatively small number of native-born and English Hebrews was increased by German immigration, which continued uninterrupted until 1861, when it ceased, only to be revived after the war. It was then joined by similar streams from other portions of Europe. The more recent landslide from Russia, which is continuing, has more than doubled the Jewish population within ten years.

Some idea of the enormous growth can best be gleaned from a census of the Jews in the Seventh, Tenth and Thirteenth wards, which was taken in August, 1890. The inspectors reported 111,690 souls, which were distributed among 23,801 families, being an average of 4.81 per family. Of the whole number, 60,257 were children, 19,672 of whom, including those under school age, attend schools; 7,306, or 32 per cent., were citizens. 15,675 non-citizens; 11,805 were in New York two years and under, while the average length of time of all in the United States was nine and a half years. As the district embraced in this enumeration, although a crowded sect on is but small in extent, the entire Jewish population of the city cannot fall much below 225 000.

The latest report of the New York Charities Directory gives 46 incorporated synagogues, of which number fully one-half are large congregations, occupying their own edifices. The list is manifestly incomplete, because temporary congregations are always organized for the September holidays throughout the city, which count thousands of worshippers. Perhaps the Jewish Day of Atonement bears the most convincing testimony as to the numbers and varied character of the Jews of New York.

The closed stores on Broadway and the avenues, the crowds of people going to and from synagogue, the absence of notabilities from the exchanges, the business stagnation in retail and wholesale trade, often on the busiest day of the week, tell a suggestive story. All classes publicly participate in the fast—rich and the poor. Fifth avenue and Essex street. It is not only the newly arrived immigrant that, in the best attire of which he can boast, hastens to a place of worship, often in a small rear room on the top floor of a tenement house, the uptown streets are full of the wealthiest and most fashionable Hebrews, who on that day attend worship, and submit to the traditional custom, which means a rigid abstinence from food and drink for 24 hours.—Harper's Weekly.

OUR DISGRACEFUL ROADS.

In spite of the wonderful commercial and industrial progress of the United States, we are still to a large extent using the same soft, muddy country roads that served for our remote ancestors. No organization has done more to remedy this surprising state of things than the League of American Wheelmen, and its secretary, Mr. Isaac B. Potter, of New York, has a word to say in the November Forum about the evil and its cure. He considers that the cost to the farmer, of carting his produce over the "roughened streak of soil" that serves us for a highway, is no small factor in the existing agricultural depression, and points out that the cost of maintaining proper public wagon roads, though great, is more than repaid to the community in the enhanced value of adjacent property alone. This position he supports by statistics. It is to be hoped that Mr. Potter and his co-workers will succeed in rousing our rural communities to the disgrace of a condition of things which makes us the laughing stock of European travelers in this country.

HEALTHY. HAPPY. WHY?

Is he a bright child? Does he look healthy and happy? He is bright, and he is both healthy and happy. He is the little son of Mrs. Henry T. Bowers, wife of the well-known contractor and builder, who resides in Dorchester avenue, South Boston. Mrs. Bowers has had quite an experience with her children, which experience we give in her own words, as follows:

"I have a little boy two and one-half years of age, the perfect picture of rugged health, and also a little girl of four. I attribute their good health and good temper to the use of Dr. Hand's Remedies.

I have used, as occasion required, the entire line, and have had very marked results from the Colic Cure, Cough and Croup Medicine, and the Pleasant Physic. I have never had any but good result from the use of any of them."

No mother would make a statement like the above unless she knew wholly whereof she affirmed.

A COLUMN OF SMILES.

Gen. Thomas was greatly beloved among the private soldiers. As Napoleon became the Little Corporal of his army, so was this man affectionately remembered as "Old Pap Thomas" by the army of the Cumberland. He was always ready to do the "little kindnesses" which go straight to the popular heart, and once, when he had refused a boon, was reproved in a way which decidedly amused him.

A private soldier who was very homesick went to headquarters to obtain leave of absence. The general asked him why he wanted a furlough, and the poor fellow replied, in the most dejected manner:

"General, I haven't seen my wife for more than three months."

"Why," said the officer, "that's nothing. I haven't seen my wife for over three years."

"Well," said the soldier, "that may be, general, but me and my wife ain't them kind!"

The furlough was granted.

THE CUSTOMER WAS WILLING,

And Tried to Satisfy the Curiosity of the Inquisitive Clerk.

Everyone has seen him. He works in some capacity in fully half of the stores in the country, and is known either as the inquisitive clerk or the clerk-who-knows-it-all.

He was behind the counter in one of the many drug stores where he is employed a few days ago when a man came in and said he wanted half a dozen six-ounce bottles, says the Chicago Tribune.

"Bottles?" he asked.

"Yes, bottles," responded the man.

"With or without corks?"

"With corks," was the response.

"Want 'em empty?" he inquired.

"Certainly."

"And new?"

"Do you suppose I want bottles you've been keeping strychnine in?"

The clerk said that such an idea never entered his head, and then asked:

"What do you want them for?"

"To break," responded the impatient customer promptly.

"What?"

The customer beckoned to him to lean over the counter, and then caught hold of the lapel of his coat and whispered:

"I wouldn't want the neighbors to get on to it, but I rather like to hear them crack. Just a whim of mine. It's better than breaking windows, and gives me just as much pleasure, but my supply has given out, and I want a few to hold me over until another carload arrives."

The clerk looked at the customer doubtfully.

"Oh, well, of course it's nothing to me," he said.

"Then what made you ask about it?" demanded the customer.

The clerk made no reply, but got the bottles. As he was making the change, however, the spirit moved him to ask:

"What do you do with the corks?"

"Chew 'em," was the reply. "It's good for the digestion. Try it sometime."

Then the customer walked out, and the clerk shook his head and tapped his forehead. But he has asked no questions since.

She Remembered.

A city bred youth was escorting a pretty little country girl, and was evidently proud of her in spite of a shade of embarrassment which now and then came over him at some slight outbreak of verdancy on her part.

As the car passed the Tombs, she cried out enthusiastically:

"Oh, there is that lovely museum I read about. So they keep it open on Sundays, do they?"

"Yes," replied the youg man, dryly, "they keep it open on Sundays."

"I remember you wrote and told me you were there twice."

The passengers were all well-bred New York people, and of course did not laugh, but some of them smiled.—New York World.

The Seat Was Turned Back.

A fine looking old gentleman walked down the aisle of the Star theater the other evening. There was nothing in his appearance to indicate that his had been a pastoral experience. In fact, he looked very much otherwise, and might well have been set down for a well-to-do retired business man. The usher led him to the row in the orchestra in which his seat was. "Third seat from the other end," said the usher, handing the old gentleman his check. The seat was turned back, as theater seats always are when not in use.

The old gentleman crawled over the feet of the people sitting between him and his seat. Then he sat down, not on his seat, but on its upturned edge. He did not look comfortable on his narrow perch. He was a large man, and, sitting as he was, loomed up a full foot above those behind him. People began to snicker. They thought it was funny. Just then the curtain went up.

A young woman was sitting right behind the fine-looking old gentleman. She might as well have sat behind a board fence so far as seeing the play went. She was equal to the emergency, however. Leaning forward, she touched the old gentleman on the shoulder. "Excuse me," she said, sweetly, "would you please rise for a moment?"

The old gentleman did so with gracious smile. The lady reached over and shoved his seat down into its proper position. "Thank you," she faintly murmured. The old gentleman said nothing, but the tittering around him brought the blood to his face. He seemed to wish that the floor would open and bury him from sight. It did not, so he sat down and attempted to lose himself in a study of his program.—New York Times.

Returning the Favor.

Theoretically we all think that we are quite as ready to yield to others their rights as we are to insist upon our own. But sometimes the fact that one is trespassing unwarrantedly on the domain of another is brought home to him forcibly.

There is a story told recently of a former prominent judge of Massachusetts, not now living, which involves a neat rebuke of the autocrat of the court room.

The judge had taken a train in Boston to return to his home in Quincy. He discovered after he had started that the train was express, and would not stop at his station. Accordingly as the cars were approaching Quincy he pulled the alarm line, the engineer whistled "down brakes" and the train came to a stand.

The conductor rushed into the car.

"Who pulled that rope?"

"I did," replied the judge.

"What for?"

"Because I wanted to get off."

The conductor thereupon made some remarks to the judge more forcible and less respectful than he was accustomed to hear. Judge B. thereupon complained to the president of the road, who told him that he would inquire into the matter.

When next they met the judge asked the president if he had reprimanded the conductor for his insolence.

"I spoke to him," he replied.

"Well, what did he say?"

"He said he would come up some day and adjourn your court!"

The judge appreciated the man's witty way of saying that he had the right to control his own train, and did not pursue the matter further.

Jefferson and Florence Joking.

Those two inimitable comedians, Joseph Jefferson and W. J. Florence, are as full of wit and sarcasm off the stage as they are of comedy behind the footlights. Their three seasons' engagement together has made them warm friends, so that they sometimes pass jokes that sound somewhat personal. They were having a controversy a few days ago when Mr. Florence, with a laugh, said:

"Mr. Jefferson, in some respects you are the crankiest man in America."

With a Rip Van Winkle stare Mr Jefferson replied: "Mr. Florence, in some respects you are the funniest man in America."

With a hearty laugh Mr. Florence replied: "Mr. Jefferson, I wish I was the funniest man in America in one respect. I have been trying for forty years to be the funniest man on the American stage, but you have beaten me."

Then they looked volumes and shook hands.—New York Press.

Jack—Heavens! What has he been doing?

Tom—Made a bet that he could read every article in four Sunday papers—including supplements and advertisements—in one hour.

Jack (breathlessly)—Well?

Tom—Won his bet, but collapsed and was taken to an asylum, a raving maniac.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

THE BRITISH PULPIT.

The preaching of the British pulpit has not the strength and eloquence which are characteristic of the American. The Dissenters are truly bold preachers, while the clergy of the Establishment exhibit more critical scholarship in their discourses. During the recent baccarat scandal the independence of British dissent was conspicuous. That scandal shocked the national conscience, but the establishment had very little to say about it. Royalty was involved in the disgrace. From pulpit, platform and press they uttered their rebukes. Resolutions were sent to the Prince of Wales urging him to mend his ways, and become an example of sobriety and dignified manhood to the youth of the land. There was something Elijah-like in the denunciations of the great wrong which this son of a noble mother had inflicted upon his country. But the dissenters were Elijahs.

Brave as they are, however, they do not equal our American preachers in their treatment of sacred themes, or in the manner of their expression. I heard very few good sermons in Great Britain. Canon Wilberforce, of Southampton, gave a finished discourse—quite perfect homiletically—on Whitsunday; and Archdeacon Farrar, in St. Margaret's Westminster, preached earnestly and effectively on Trinity Sunday. Dr. Newman Hall, in his own pulpit, was simple, direct and tender; and the Rev. McNeill, of Regent's Square, exhibited unusual dramatic power. But most of the sermons lack finish. They were more like prayer-meeting talks than sermons. In the Church of England it seems to be regarded as "poor form" to gesture; for only twice did I see a pulpit orator of that church who used a gesture, and one of the two was of foreign birth.—Rev. H. M. Booth in Church at Home and Abroad.

CHANGING CUSTOMS AMONG THE JEWS.

The new currents of the time that have developed New York of the past into the present metropolis have had their natural effect on the social and religious customs of the Jews. A certain picturesqueness, which gave a peculiar halo and beauty to old-time Jewish life, has vanished in the stir and bustle of this elevated age. The historic festivals used to possess a special atmosphere, and their charming and poetic associations aided powerfully in maintaining family life and developing an aesthetic as well as religious influence.

Sabbath eve in a truly pious Jewish household was a poem in itself, a family reunion, a religious thanksgiving, a paean of joy, in which old and young alike participated. Its scenes have inspired many a Jewish poet, and furnished Heine with the subject of one of his most characteristic poems.

The Jewish wedding of a few decades ago possessed all of its quaint Oriental features. The special festivals, like Passover, Pentecost, and Tabernacles, were fragrant with their traditional ceremonies, while Purim rejoiced the Jewish heart with its merriment and good cheer, and the Feast of Dedication, in honor of the victories of the Maccabees, occurring near Christmas, was crowned with games and gifts.

In those decades, too, the Jews were few in number, and lived within easy distance of each other, so that the community was like a large family.

With the new conditions a good deal of traditional Judaism has passed away; but, on the other hand, a larger and more bountiful benevolence, a broader and more helpful education, can be seen. The ritual has been shortened, the religious worship improved, organ and choir have been generally introduced, and German and English substituted for some of their Hebrew prayers.

The old congregation, with women in the galleries and the men below, wrapped in white praying mantles, is not met so often any more. The appearance of a fashionable synagogue or temple does not differ materially from that of a fashionable church, nor does the fashionable Jew or Jewess differ socially from the fashionable non-Jew or non-Jewess. It is chiefly among the recently arrived immigrants that so-called orthodox customs are at their strongest, to become weaker with every generation, and finally, perhaps, to pass away.—Harper's Weekly.

A BOY ADOPTED BY A COW.

A letter from Kansas has a surprising story, my friends. It tells me of a cow who, when she had lost her calf, showed so much sorrow that it awakened the sympathy of her owner's 14-year-old son, and he showed her some slight kindnesses. The grateful cow at once became fond of him, watched for him as she would for her calf, and since then she has shown her pleasure whenever he comes near her. Indeed, no one but this boy can manage the poor animal, and wonderful stories are told of her devotion to him. The Kansas papers say that lately the boy had occasion to go to a neighboring town, and as he remained away until after milking time, his sister, not daring to approach the cow in any other way, decided to personate her brother. So she put on a suit of his clothes and went into the barnyard. The girl succeeded in deceiving the cow until the boy was seen coming up the road, when, instantly, the indignant animal kicked the pail over and made a bound in the direction of the youth, showing unmistakable evidences of delight.—St. Nicholas.

CHEAP CLOTHING IN ENGLAND.

It is perfectly astonishing to note at what prices clothing is sold. A good woolen or tweed suit can be had, made to order, at $10 to $11, and an excellent cassimere of very high grade, well trimmed and lined, is made to order for $15. A fine all wool overcoat, of the very best material, is made to order for $10 to $12.50, and an elegant broadcloth full dress suit, silk lined throughout, which would cost $60 in Chattanooga, can be had for $25 to $30. Fine silk handkerchiefs can be bought at 50 cents; [illegible] gloves (kid and dogskin) at 60 cents to 70 cents; the very best linen collars at 18 cents and the very best four-ply cuffs at 25 cents. Ladies' elegant feather boas, 12 feet long, can be had at $4; beautiful and stylishly trimmed hats are offered in the show windows at $5 to $7.50; fine balbriggan hose at 75 cents to $1 per pair, and elegant Llama wool underwear at $4 to $5 per suit. The English ladies and gentlemen are fine dressers, and one sees as stylish attires all over Great Britain as anywhere else in the world.—London Letter to Chattanooga Times.

TO DISCUSS THE PENTATEUCH.

A Biblical institute is to be held in Philadelphia during the holidays, under the auspices of the American Society for the Extension of University Teaching, and the American Institute of Sacred Literature, for the general discussion of "The Pentateuch." The institute is to hold four sessions, and the leading Biblical scholars of America are invited to present both sides of the question. The topics to be discussed are A Statement of the Question, and the Problems Involved, Arguments from Language and Style, Historical Material, the New Testament, the Religious Development of Israel, Scripture Analogies, Theology, Effect of Biblical Criticism upon the Doctrine of Inspiration, Effect on Personal Faith.

Among the speakers chosen are Dr. W. R. Harper, of Chicago university; Professor W. R. Rogers, of Dickinson college; Professor E. C. Bissell ,of Hartford; Professor Francis Brown; Professor Willis J. Beecher, of Auburn, N. Y.; Professor E. P. Gould; Professor Wm. Henry Green, of Princeton; Professor Sylvester Burnham, of Hamilton, N. Y.; Professor George S. Burroughs, of Amherst. Full information may be obtained of Rev. L. W. Batten, 4805 Regent street, Philadelphia.

CENTRAL SOUDAN.

The Business of the Great Saharian Railway.

The traffic of the Trans-Saharian railway will comprise two classes of business—the first, local, between oasis and oasis, or the Saharian traffic proper; the second, the business between extreme ends of the line, between Algeria and France and the central Soudan. Once given railway transportation, depots and markets will spring up along the line, for the surveys cross the lines followed by the caravans that carry the commerce of the desert. The export of cereals from Algeria to the Touaregs and to the Au country, and the export of salt, which is not found in the Soudan, will give importance to the salt wells of Amadrhor. Upon the other hand, it is certain that a constant stream from the south will pour into Algeria, bringing chiefly hides and leather. An estimate of the yearly income to be derived from the Saharian business may be put at 6,265,000 francs. Dividing this sum by the length of the line from Biskra to Lake Tchad, 3,100 kilometres(1,923 miles,) the earnings are equal to 2,000 francs per kilometre.

Central Soudan is rich enough to furnish a vast commercial business to a railway: spices, ostrich feathers, gold-dust, indigo, hides, leather, cereals, and fruits, palm-oil, cotton, ebony, and dye-stuffs. The exports and imports of the Soudan ought to provide an income of 7,310 francs per kilometre. Finally, there remains the passenger traffic, which may be expected to grow into importance. In round numbers, I may say that the Trans-Saharian traffic would result in earnings of about 10,000 francs per kilometre line. As the construction cost would average 100,000 francs a kilometre, interest at 4 1-2 pe cent. will require 4,500 francs per kilometre. The running expenses of one train a day, in either direction, would be between 5,000 and 5,500 francs per kilometre per year. From a financial stand-point the enterprise, if well managed ought therefore to prove remunerative. This alone, apart from other considerations, should warrant a Trans-Saharian railway.—November Scribner.

A MINT IN PERFUMES.

Tradition hath it that the attar of roses was first used by Nourjehan, Moore's Nourmahal, otherwise "Light of the Harem." Walking one day in the garden through which ran a canal of rose water, she spied on the surface oily particles that excited her curiosity. In sheer idleness she collected them and found them so deliciously fragrant that she at once cried for more, with the result of setting up a new industry among her husband's loyal subjects. Once the precious essence was worth its weight in diamonds; now it fetches but $5 the ounce. Turkey supplies the most and purest of it. That which comes from India is usually adulterated with oil of lemon grass.

True violet essence is one of the costliest things a perfumer keeps in stock. Cassia buds come from the shrub acacia, grown all over Italy, in Spain, Algiers and Tunis. It looks like a small round tuft of orange floss silk, and yields a delicate but enduring essence dear to the scent-maker's soul, called there poetically "Moonlight of the Grove."

Jassamine is an Indian shrub. Its starry wax-like blossoms are indescribably sweet. All the burning pain, and passion, and pathos, and mystery of the Hindoo race seem to rise up to you in its breath. The tuberose, too, comes from India and Ceylon. Everybody will recall the fragrance that lies heavy in its heart.

Each perfume of commerce is a bouquet of some sort. A thoroughly successful one means fame and fortune. Many a man has struck a mint in a single new perfume.—Chicago News.

HOME RULE FOR CITIES.

I believe, therefore, that the legislative control over municipal governments should only be to provide general laws for the incorporation of cities and limiting the corporate powers that may be exercised; and that each city should be permitted to frame its own charter, subject to those restrictions, and adopt and amend it by vote of its own citizens. * * * The powers of municipal government should, I believe, be vested in legislative and executive departments; the legislative department to be elective and to consist of two bodies, one elected from and representing different wards or other divisions, and the other composed of a smaller number of members, elected by and representing the whole city. Each body should be a check upon the other. The executive power should be vested in the mayor and, under his supervision, in the heads of different departments. The mayor and such heads of departments as do not require special qualifications should be elective; those heads of departments whose duties require technical knowledge or professional skill and training should be appointed by the mayor. The power of removal should accompany the power of appointment, but should be so guarded as to prevent its abuse. The new charter of the city of Buffalo, enacted by the legislature of New York at its last session, is, in my judgment, a fair exposition of the proper distribution and limitations of municipal powers. It was framed by the committee of representative citizens, whose selection and deliberations were suggestive of a constitutional convention, and is, I think, a fair example of the practical working of the system I have outlined.—Mayor Bishop of Buffalo, in North American Review for November.

BUDDING BRAINS.

It is always interesting to study the budding brains of the youngsters of New York who are to be the governing force of the city during a good part of the twentieth century. There seems to be in these times a brood of youngsters with minds quickened to a degree unequaled in their predecessors. Their development is promoted by the vivacity of city life, the popularization of all kinds of knowledge, the educational system and the habit of reading. Thus they become familiar with the thought, the business and the progress of the world; thus their mind and manners are affected in the formative period between 7 and 14; thus they acquire that excellent virtue, gumption; thus the youthful brain of the closing years of the nineteenth century is fertilized in a peculiar way; thus the boys and girls of to-day are being prepared for the approaching twentieth century. The next generation of men and women ought to have more solid sense than some of the buried generations have had.—John Swinton in the New York Sun.

AN HISTORIC HOUSE.

James Russell Lowell was born among the trees and lilac bushes of Elmwood, February 22, 1819; and he grew up there amidst the sights and sounds of the country, out of doors, and in the companionship of books and learned men indoors. One inducement which drew his father toward Cambridge—after the death of Vice President Gerry, in 1814, threw Elmwood into the market—was, no doubt, the college library and the learned society of that town. Elmwood itself indicated three great periods, it was built by a prosperous loyalist, used as a soldiers' hospital during the Revolutionary war, and afterwards inhabited by one of the early governors of Massachusetts.

The loyalist was Thomas Oliver, the lieutenant governor under King George; and the governor was Elbridge Gerry, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. The birthplace, home and grave of the poet, all lie within a short radius, in that once secluded but now too much frequented corner of Cambridge.—New England Magazine for November.

COME TO STAY.

The terribly aggravated form of influenza, which physicians on the continent of Europe designate as "la grippe," seems to have effected a permanent lodgment this side the Atlantic. It makes its reappearance as soon as the cool weather sets in, and not infrequently during the summer months. In the spring it is rampant. Nothing checks its first attack, or so effectually counteracts its subsequent ravages, as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The fortifying, invigorating influence of that beneficent tonic protects the system against the dangers which beset a feeble physique and a weakly constitution consequent upon abrupt transitions of temperature. It diffuses a genial warmth through the diaphragm, which is the best corrective or preventive of a chill, and is a means of neutralizing the effect of exposure in damp or rigorous weather. In dyspepsia, liver complaint, costiveness, rheumatism, malarial and kidney troubles it is never resorted to without good results.

A LIVE DOLL.

How a Little Girl Purchased a Baby for Half a Crown.

The following true story is told in the "Journal of Emily Shore:"

A little girl near us was one day playing before the house when a woman appeared and begged a few pence. She had a baby in her arms, and the child was so delighted with the little thing that she asked the woman if she would sell it to her.

"What will you give for it, miss?" was the counter question.

"Half a crown."

"Very well," said the woman. "Let's see the money."

It was produced and the sale made. The little girl took the baby, carried it up stairs and laid it on her bed, and, after she had fondled it "enough for once," scampered down stairs, calling to her mother:

"Mamma, mamma! I've got a live doll! I always wanted one and now I've got it!"

The baby was found and the story frankly told; but, though the beggar woman was sought all over the town, no trace of her could be discovered. Meanwhile the baby's little "owner" begged so hard that it should be kept that the parents yielded, and the living doll became a household blessing.

GOING AROUND THE WALLS.

A man with a bad liver may have a good heart.

It doesn't help the Lord for you to talk too much about the mean things you used to do before you were converted.

Don't make home a gloomy place for your boys, unless you want to help the barkeeper.

Some men never find time to praise their wives until they see them in their coffins.

Trying to carry your own troubles is to undertake to do the work of God.

Sometimes we like to have people believe with us only because it is flattering to our judgment.

Don't live where, if an angel should come to stay all night with you, he would be insulted, as was the case in Lot's house.

Nowhere has God promised to be anything more for us than we are willing to trust him for.

Life depends upon what we do with our leisure moments.

Money laid up here will not draw interest in the world to come.

Nothing can be right to the man whose heart is wrong.

There is no investment that pays like doing good.

To deliberately sin to-dav means to repeat and indorse the sins of yesterday.

The man who is willing to stay wrong with God for a day, may have to stay wrong for eternity.—Ram's Horn.

BISHOP BROOKS' WAY.

No one who has seen Dr. Brooks with children is likely to forget his "way with them." Sterner persons say that he makes them behave very badly, and, possibly in jealousy, others have called him fonder of youngsters than of grown people. No objection is heard from the children. They look midgets, indeed, on those knees, high and broad, in which two schools of churchmanship figuratively meet. Is it foolish to imagine that the new bishop's visitations will gain some of their power—over mothers at least—through his extremely happy intercourse with the children? However literally true it may be, surely the story of Dr. Brooks going to a poor woman's rooms and keeping the children out of mischief while she went to church tells something of his spirit. And the story loses none of its point when one reflects that the woman could not hear one of her visitor's sermons. —Harper's Weekly.

FAULT FINDING.

Nothing is easier than to find fault. Almost everything we hear or see is open to criticism, and, if we live to pick flaws, we are readily kept busy. Conversation is defective. Few can express their exact meaning in words, and not a few say what they don't mean simply because they cannot say what they wish to. And if nearly all speech is imperfect, so is nearly all work. Do his best, man will yet do poorly enough. His greatest plans, his smallest schemes, will be but imperfectly accomplished; and if sensitive to criticism, the probability is that he will suffer when he hears what people have to say concerning his doings.

HARMLESS.

TO ASSIST NATURE IN REMOVING Poisons from the body is the great mission of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC. Microbi cannot exist in the blood when S.S.S. is properly taken, as it promptly forces them out, and cures the patient. It has relieved thousands in a few days who had suffered for years.

MR. F. Z. NELSON, a prominent and wealthy citizen of Fremont, Nebraska, suffered for years with SCROFULA, and it continued to grow worse in spite of all treatment. Finally, Four Bottles of S.S.S. cured him. He writes: "Words are inadequate to express my gratitude and favorable opinion of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC.

Know only a comparatively few things thoroughly—all else is more or less uncertain.
Take your own case. What do you know about CARPETS, for instance? Are you competent to detect poor materials, or imperfect weaving, or unreliable colorings, or old-style patterns?
No.
Then will it not be wisdom on your part to make your purchases of CARPETS where all these points are taken care of in your interest, and where you are protected, not only from direct misrepresentation, but from the results of your own inexperience?
That seems plain enough.
Just two things we promise every customer. They are these:
That every salesman shall tell the whole truth about every piece of goods offered for sale; that anything which proves imperfect, through the appearance of any hidden defect subsequent to purchase, shall be made right.
The name of our firm stands behind these two guarantees.
Very likely you are thinking of purchasing one or more CARPETS shortly. If so, consider what we have said.
